Errors in Election Are Charged by Oliphant, Who Plans to Demand Recount

LAST COUNT GIVES DAVIE LEAD OF 202

His Total Is 22,493, Against 16,463 for Oliphant, Who Says Many Mistakes Were Made in Counting Votes

City Firemen and Policemen Jubilant Over Adoption of Proposal for Pay Increase of Fifty Cents Per Day

Alleging errors in balloting and taking of tallies in the primary election yesterday, David D. Oliphant, runner-up in the contest for mayor, today declared that he would insist on a recount if the official check of the city clerk did not show Mayor Davie to have a much greater vote than the unofficial returns indicated.

"The unofficial returns from yesterday's election show that the Mayor has a margin of about 100 votes over the number necessary to elect him at the primary," said Oliphant. "My supporters are not satisfied with this unofficial count, and unless the official tabulation shows a decided difference in the vote we will demand a recount of the ballots."

"Returns made up on election night are compiled under great pressure and mistakes are frequent. Last night many of the envelopes containing the ballots were open. Under these circumstances we will not concede our defeat upon any small margin of votes, but will insist on a recount."

"We feel that the vote in opposition to Mayor Davie was larger than the showing on the face of the unofficial returns. We want to express the people's own expression of their will, not hastily compiled general results. We will be glad to abide by the decision of the voters, and only want to be certain of their action."

DAVIE LEADS BY 274 BALLOTS

An official count of the ballots this morning showed Mayor Davie to have a lead over the entire field of 274 votes, according to an announcement of City Clerk Eugene K. Sturgis.

Latest semi-official returns gave the complete balloting for mayor as follows:

John L. Davie	22,493
David P. Meyers	343
David D. Oliphant, Jr.	16,463
Fred E. Reed	5,480
Unannounced candidate	3

These figures credit Mayor Davie with a lead of 203 votes over the entire vote for the remainder of the candidates, which, if corroborated by the official city count, is enough to place him at the head of the city administration for the next term without further contest at the polls.

Semi-official complete figures for Commissioner No. 1 showed a slight change in the voting for the candidates for this office from the hurried newspaper returns. In this race W. J. Morehead leads W. H. Edwards, incumbent candidate, by 877 votes in qualifying for the final election.

William J. Bacous, commissioner of streets, was re-elected to that office by a vote three times that of his nearest competitor. He polled 22,986 votes with H. T. Hempstead.

The largest vote of the day was polled by Fred A. Campbell, who received 24,913 votes in being re-elected to the office of school director No. 1 in competition with E. C. Lyon, who received 18,043.

OAKLAND FIREMEN ARE JUBILANT TODAY.

As a result of the primary vote, Mrs. Nannie S. O'Kramer and H. S. Craig were qualified to compete in the final election for school director No. 2. J. F. Chandler, incumbent, and Nettie M. Miller for school director No. 3, and John J. Allen Jr. and Maud E. Boyle were qualified for school director No. 4.

The Oakland firemen and policemen were jubilant today over the success of the amendment, which will add 50 cents a day to their wages. This amendment was carried with the affirmative vote of 30,669 and a negative of only 12,450. Every precinct in the city scored a majority of votes in favor.

DRIVE FOR CHARITIES IS BEGUN

Community Chest Campaign in Oakland Is Started Off With Blowing of Whistles at 9 O'Clock This Morning

2015 Volunteer Workers Assemble at Old Telephone Building in Franklin Street—Start As Hour Ticks Off

Heralded by blasts from the sirens and whistles of the industrial plants in the city, the Oakland Community Chest campaign officially opened at 9 o'clock. Exactly 2015 workers gathered at the old telephone building, 1751 Franklin street, which is serving as the campaign headquarters, jamming the building and the street in front of it.

Veterans of other campaigns declared that never before had such a force of workers been mobilized for any cause.

"This response to the call for volunteer workers shows in a practical, concrete manner that Oakland really cares and that the city will take care of those who are unable to take care of themselves," commented W. W. Garthwaite, president of the Community Chest campaign, as he stood the workers.

"It is more than thrilling, it is inspiring."

FIRST REPORTS RECEIVED AT NOON

It was at the luncheon at the Hotel Oakland that the reports of the workers were received. The luncheon was called to order by President Garthwaite. The Orpheus club quartet, composed of Jack Thomas, Ernest McDaniel, Eugene Rowland, Carl Volker and Bessie Beatty Rowland, furnished musical selections. Lynn Mowatt, campaign manager, answered questions relative to the problems of the workers and General C. A. Simmons, executive secretary of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and campaign director of the San Francisco Community Chest, was the speaker of the day. He said in part:

"The soundness of the Community Chest plan has been demonstrated in those cities where it has been given a fair trial. In my recent trip through the East my inquiries were not confined to those men who are paid employees or who have specialized in social service work. I made a point of talking with many different classes of citizens. I found that all are generally agreed that the Community Chest plan brings home to the public a greater appreciation of social problems; that it provides for a gradual elimination of duplicating agencies or direction of their efforts along lines which will avoid duplication, and that it gives improvement of service, protection to merchants and distribution of the financial burden involved in adequate attention to relief and welfare work and also co-operation in solving social problems by uniting all religious forces of the community without regard to creed, class or color."

CHEST PLAN ELIMINATES CHAOS

"The Community Chest means that the budgeting and auditing of agencies are subject to inspection. It tends to make them more responsive to public sentiment. It eliminates chaotic competition and haphazard income. Most of the agencies to the operation and administration have been registered prior to its inception and always introduce the element of possible failure. In fact, those who argue against it are mostly those who talk in gloomy terms generally emphasized by it."

"The Oakland Community Chest plan has stood the test financially. In some cities it has been in operation long fully said that it has stood the test of years. Leading citizens in many communities have testified that it has done more to eliminate religious animosities than any other force.

"The Denver post was quoted as saying that the fund raised was $648,000. Denver has had a federation of charities since 1887, and so far as is known, was the first city to undertake such work.

"St. Louis had $753 contributions before the campaign, and 90,000 afterwards. Rochester, N. Y., has conducted its sixth successful campaign. One contributor, George Eastman, gives $150,000. Cleveland raises the largest fund in the country—$4,250,000—and has over 200,000 subscribers. Detroit raises $2,215,000. Kansas City's charities chest has stood the test of years."

SCHOOL FARE CUT BILL IS TABLED

Saylor Measure for 3-Cent Rate for Children Gets Perfunctory Hearing.

By E. VAN LIER RIBBINK. TRIBUNE BUREAU, Sacramento, April 18.—Perfunctory in the extreme was the hearing accorded last night in the Assembly to the bill of Mrs. Anna L. Saylor of Berkeley, which would have vested power in the State Railroad Commission to order the Oakland and Berkeley street railways to establish a 3-cent fare for school children, but which was "tabled" by the committee, and which has thereby increased the long list of unimportant legislative measures.

The bill previously had made its appearance at a public hearing, attended by City Attorney Leon Gray of Oakland, who explained the justice of the proposed measure, and by representatives of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway, who declared that the bill would work a hardship on the company.

DECISION BEFORE HEARING EVIDENT

Mrs. Saylor made a vigorous plea for the passage of the bill, but her arguments fell on sterile soil, the committee evidently having already made up its mind on the matter. Mrs. Saylor pointed out that the only reason why Oakland and Berkeley do not have half-fares for their school children is to be ascribed to the oversight of those who in contract for such half-fares at the time they granted franchises to the railway company. She also declared that all other cities surrounding Oakland and Berkeley are enjoying half-fares for their school children, and quoted an opinion by President Clyde J. Seavey of the State Railroad Commission, to the effect that "half-fares would not constitute a hardship on the street car company, but would actually tend to increase its revenues."

Assemblyman Bradford S. Crittenden of Tracy was the first member of the committee to "throw cold water" on the proposal by stating that he doubted whether the bill would be constitutional. He was followed by Albert S. Rosenshine of San Francisco and others, and it soon became apparent that the tide had definitely set against the bill, although Assemblyman E. H. Christian of Hayward, chairman of the committee, gave every opportunity to Mrs. Saylor to state her case.

FURTHER DISCUSSION OF MEASURE FAVORED

Though the vote to "table" was practically unanimous, it is understood that several members of the committee favor a further discussion of the measure, should its fate be decided.

In the course of the discussion it was also charged that "the 3-cent fare law is being used for political campaign purposes in Oakland," but this was denied by Mrs. Saylor. It was remarked by some committee men that a re-settlement of the street railway franchises is at present under discussion in the Eastbay region, and that, under such re-settlement proceedings, Oakland and Berkeley may make the franchise subject to the granting of half-fares, thereby obviating legislative action.

It was quite evident that these suggestions were being offered as a "salve" to the feelings of the sponsors of the bill, and not as a definite reason for refusal to vote in favor of the measure.

Anti-Alien Land Argument Up Friday

WASHINGTON, April 18.—An announcement was made today that arguments would be heard Friday by the United States Supreme Court in the cases brought by Japanese to test the validity of the anti-alien land laws of California and Washington. The case came to the Supreme Court on an appeal from the courts of California, Oregon and Washington.

NO SHORTAGE OF LABOR IN CALIFORNIA

Investigation Discloses No Possibility of Famine in Workers' Supply for State During the Coming Season

Middle West Short Manual Laborers, Bowery Deserted and No Unemployment Is Found in the Locality

There is no labor shortage in California and probably will be none this season, according to the state department of labor, which maintains employment agencies in Oakland and other large cities and is probably the largest labor clearing agency in the state.

"From all information now on hand from the various agencies, we believe there will be no shortage this year and none exists at present," the department announced officially today.

The largest private employment agency handling all classes of labor about the bay did not subscribe entirely to this view. An official of the company said that evidence of labor shortage had been noticed for the past two weeks and while it was not acute labor was not plentiful. It was said that due to seasonal demands a shortage in supply was usually encountered in May but that it had been noticed unusually early this year.

Oregon reported plenty of workers in the industrial and trade fields with a surplus of "white collar" workers.

In Washington, a check showed the demand for labor well up with the supply, with more jobs than men for farm labor. It was said that the mines, government reclamation projects and the lumber industry could absorb practically all men seeking work.

Approximately 1500 men are being shipped daily to cities and towns within a radius of 400 miles from Chicago.

Labour Will Buy Fleet to Prove Marine Can Pay

NEW YORK, April 18.—(By The Associated Press.)—The Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association has offered the shipping board $300,000 cash for three 12,000-ton craft, which it proposes to acquire as the nucleus of a labor owned and labor operated fleet.

The offer was contained in a letter made public today, from Thomas B. Healey, business manager of the Union, to Albert D. Lasker, chairman of the shipping board, asking that he take the matter directly to President Harding. The ships named are the Hanley, Hannawa and Pomona. All are in service, having recently sailed from Pacific Coast ports with cargoes.

"We feel that American ships can be profitably operated," read Healey's offer. "These ships and others which we expect to purchase later will at present a liability to the government."

"We intend to have satisfied crews, pay fair wages and install into the men operating them that they are their ships and they are not working to enrich individuals."

LOST DEBTOR IS BANQUET DONOR

Twenty-Year Creditors Get Food and Payment in Full for Old Loans.

BY UNITED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. CHICAGO, April 18.—The mysterious host who royally banqueted 14 Cincinnati business men at a club last night was identified today as Foster Butler, their long-lost debtor.

Twenty years ago Butler, then a produce merchant in Lexington, Ky., went broke. Coming to Cincinnati, he borrowed his limit and departed.

Recently 14 Cincinnati residents received mysterious telegrams sent from Roseburg, Ore., inviting them to a dinner at the Businessmen's club here.

Gathering in the clubrooms, they found a strange host awaiting their arrival. The dinner cleared away and cigars lighted, the host arose and silently gave each guest an envelope marked for opening the following morning. When bidding his guests goodnight, he departed.

When the envelopes were opened today, they were found to contain checks with interest for the money they had loaned Butler 20 years ago.

Then the creditors recognized their host of the night before, but Butler could not be found.

"In exchange," he announced, "I can recoup my fortune."

He founded as a result the now important and highly profitable "broccoli" industry here. The "broccoli" is a peculiar variety of cabbage, growing hardly under proper conditions and much resembling a cauliflower.

Butler has been credited with "putting Roseburg on the map" through the produce markets of the country. He left recently for the east to study marketing conditions.

His wife and two children live here.

Balloting.

of the increase in pay for these city employees.

Credit is given the policemen and firemen for the large vote of yesterday, which ran far over pre-election estimates. In their campaign for the amendment the city employees carried the election directly into also every home in the city, and many ballots are believed to have been gained in this way that otherwise never would have been cast.

Commenting on the outcome of the election, Mayor Davis today issued the following statement:

"The splendid victory registered at the polls yesterday is to me an indication of the confidence which the people of Oakland have in the present administration.

"My opponents made many bitter attacks against the progressive development program which is under way, and against measures which had been taken by the city to protect the interests of our people. They were particularly bitter on the matter of the Six-Minute Ferry Company lease and the dredging of Lake Merritt, stating that funds for harbor development were being misappropriated for this purpose.

"Now that the campaign is closed I feel that the public should have a clear understanding of these matters. The stockholders of the Six-Minute Ferry company approved cancellation of the lease which they held upon our western water front, stating that they had learned that it was a stock selling scheme.

"For more than six years past the authorities of the California State Board of Health recommended that some measure be taken to improve the health conditions of Lake Merritt, which was rapidly becoming an immense cesspool and which constituted a menace to the health of our people. The dredging of the lake eliminated this menace to public health, made the lake more attractive and accessible for the recreation of the people of Oakland, while the same material dredged from the lake is being used to reclaim 100 acres of waste land back of the municipal auditorium which has a value when reclaimed of more than $6,000,000.

"The harbor funds were not misappropriated for this purpose and the entire cost of dredging the lake is to be repaid through the funds derived from the lake itself. Had the lake dredging not been done, it would have been necessary to discontinue the boating on Lake Merritt, with the entire loss of revenue from that source. As it is, the dredging will increase these revenues.

"My campaign has been based upon facts, not promises; and the result of yesterday's election shows conclusively the faith of the voters of Oakland in the administration which they have had. For the past two years, with the commissioners who have been working with me, I have attempted to give to the people of Oakland a government of economy, efficiency and harmony. Yesterday's vote shows that the people of Oakland have faith in such an administration.

"It is with heartfelt thanks that I am issuing this statement to my many thousands of loyal supporters, and to all the people of our city I pledge a continuance of the type of government which Oakland has enjoyed for the past two years—a government which has attracted millions of dollars in new industries; a government in which I believe has meant progress for our city.

"The haste, ostensibly built for the Six-Minute Ferry company, and the Shasta and the San Mateo, which are today operating in the transbay ferry service of the Southern Pacific. This bears out my contention that this company was merely a screen from behind which the Southern Pacific company intended to obtain a further hold upon our western waterfront.

"JOHN L. DAVIS,
Mayor of the City of Oakland."

RED PLEDGES SUPPORT TO WINNERS.

Fred E. Reed today issued the following statement:

"I still live in the best city on earth. Yesterday I loved Oakland enough to be willing to make a personal sacrifice of business interests, feeling I could lead her successfully into one of the great cities of the world. Surely loving her as I do and wishing her only success, I shall not fail to do as a humble citizen all I can to help others accomplish what I myself would have asked them to help me do.

"The test of loyalty and real character is found in the hour of seeming defeat. I do not feel that I have lost. Within the last three weeks there sprang up in Oakland an organization whose one purpose was good government for our city. Many earnest citizens became members of it. They continue members. Our city has not lost because of its existence.

"To those loyal men and women who with unselfish purpose worked so earnestly and hard for my election I would say defeat is sweet when accompanied by knowledge that you went down fighting hard in a good cause, surrounded by comrades who put their city first. It has been a good fight. I'm glad I went in."

BACCUS THANKS HIS SUPPORTERS

Commissioner William J. Baccus, out on his re-election to office as follows:

"My heart goes out to my many friends who have elected me at the primaries. I interpret my success to a desire by the people of Oakland of a continuance of the policies I have pursued during my twenty years of public service, and I assure them that I shall exert my most conscientious efforts to perpetuate them.

"W. H. Edwards, commissioner of revenue and finance, who qualified for re-election at the final election, said:

"I desire to thank the many friends who have elected me to public service, which enabled me to qualify at yesterday's primary election. If elected at the final election, I promise a continuance of a program of service which embodies honesty and economy.

"W. H. EDWARDS."

E. C. Lyon, who was defeated as candidate for school director No. 1, issued the following statement:

"I wish to thank the 1,000 friends who voted for me. I wish to congratulate my opponent on his election, and to say that I will do all in my power to assist him at any time for the betterment of our school system."

SIDELIGHTS GIVE INSIDE VIEW ON ELECTION DATA

Closest Contest Was for School Director Number Four.

Here are some of the sidelights of the primary election yesterday: Mayor Davis polled the largest vote in any election where he has run against a field, according to city officials.

Nettie M. Miller, who qualified for the final election as candidate for school director No. 3, received one vote for mayor.

The closest contest of the day was between Maude E. Boyle and John J. Allen, Jr., both of whom qualified for school director No. 4. In being re-elected to the office of school director No. 1, Fred A. Campbell received the largest vote of the day.

William J. Baccus was re-elected commissioner of streets by a vote three times that of his nearest competitor.

Mayor Davis is credited with a lead of 202 votes over the field in the mayoralty contest by City Clerk Eugene K. Sturgis.

David C. Uliphant is preparing to contest the election on grounds of irregularities. If the official count does not give Mayor Davis a larger margin of votes over the field.

Commissioner of Revenue and Finance W. H. Edwards will be opposed by W. J. Moorehead in the final election for commissioner No. 1.

SUICIDE'S DESIRE IS GRATIFIED FOR BIRTHDAY DEATH

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—Mrs. Michael Minor's desire to die on her birthday was fulfilled when she unexpectedly succumbed just before midnight at the Central emergency hospital, after a suicidal attempt yesterday. She was born on April 17 and after a disagreement with her husband whom she claimed was about to leave, she swallowed poison. In a note left to Minor she wrote about a birthday gift and asked that annually he place flowers on her grave. The physicians were hopeful of saving her life. Mrs. Minor lived at 1920 Post street and was employed as a nurse in a local dental office. She was the former wife of an Oakland dentist.

FAST GUNFIGHTER LOSES LIFE IN ELEVATOR SHAFT

"Lone Star" Hane, Hero of Many Fights, Dies With His "Boots On."

OMAHA, Neb., April 18.—(By the Associated Press).—Fighting, smiling, gray-haired old "Lone Star" Fred M. Hane, Indian fighter, frontier scout and the last of the real "cross arm draw" experts, met death here last night with his "boots on," as he had often desired.

But death did not come to him on the field of battle, where he had so often faced it, nor on the wings of a bullet. He was crushed to death in an elevator shaft at the Omaha World-Herald plant, where he was night watchman.

"Lone Star" was caught by the elevator when he attempted to move the control lever from the outside and the lift sudden at upward. The old veteran tried to leap into it, but his feet that so often had been on the backs of mustangs had lost their old spring and so "Lone Star" died with his boots on.

BEGAN CAREER AT 16
Hane began his career as plainsman at the age of 16 when he left home to search for a brother kidnapped by Sioux Indians. He developed the "cross-arm draw" until he was without a peer and this skill he retained even in his old age. He never touched a trigger, but used his thumb to raise the hammer of his Colt single action revolver, in a fan-like action. He often declared that he could fire his single-action Colt six times before any one armed with a modern automatic pistol could fire half that many shots.

"Lone Star" first broke into fame in 1876 in the "Hole in Wall" country on Powder river, Wyoming, when, single-handed, he shot and killed "Spookasy Jim" and two fellow bandits. It was "Lone Star's" hammer-fanning that won the unequal fight.

The Indians dubbed him "Wah-Clash-Toe-Wan-Gu-La," which translated means Lone Star. Other high spots of Hane's life are:

Shot and killed two stage coach bandits, April 12, 1877, near Valentine, Neb.

Shot five Indians in the battle of the Little Missouri, near Bismarck, August 21, 1877, saving the lives of twenty prospectors.

KILLED 11 IN BATTLE
Killed eleven Indians with 10 shots, using both guns hammer-fanning, in the battle of Wounded Knee, S. D., in 1892.

Killed a bandit at Ainsworth, Neb., in 1878.

Shot and killed a bandit at Fort Mont, Neb., in 1897.

Was official war department investigator of the Custer massacre and followed Sitting Bull 600 miles on horseback, inducing him and his band to return to the reservation.

Was present at Sitting Bull's death.

Extend Navy Base Offer. S. F. Papers Ask Alameda

Calling attention to the importance of Alameda's election on May 8, when decision will be made on the proposed renewal of the city's offer to the Naval Base site, the San Francisco Chronicle and Examiner today print the following editorials:

WE WANT THE NAVAL BASE
San Francisco Bay Is the Logical Place and We Should Further Its Interests.

At a special election called for May 8 the voters of Alameda will determine whether or not to renew the city's offer to the United States government of a gift of 5340 acres of tide lands for a naval base. Under the terms of the original offer the option expires January 1, 1924. There is a general feeling that the offer should be extended for another year.

The question to be voted upon by the people of Alameda is one of vital importance to the entire bay region. Naval authorities favor San Francisco Bay as the logical place for a naval base and certainly the least the various communities can do is to provide a site. Aside from the prestige that would come to the bay region as a result of the establishing of a naval base here it is estimated that it would mean something like $100,000,000.

Fruit Thinning to Be Shown By Bureau

HAYWARD, April 18.—Thinning of deciduous fruits will be demonstrated at a series of meetings to be held by the Alameda County Fruit Bureau. A demonstration will be held here this afternoon providing weather conditions permit. Russell T. Robinson, county agricultural agent, said:

Demonstrations will be given in Hayward, Mount Eden, Warm Springs, Centerville, Irvington and other fruit producing centers by the pomology division of the University of California, and by the agricultural agents here. Robinson said yesterday that orchardists are paying particular attention to thinning this year because of the average large production, the desire to create a fruit of exceptional standard, and because certain fruit pests, while dormant, are still in the trees and may, under conditions favorable to them, spread among fruit carelessly thinned.

Former Professor To Revisit Campus

BERKELEY, April 18.—Prof. Karl C. Leobrich, former member of the University of California faculty and now head of the history department at the University of Hawaii, will pay his first visit to the Berkeley campus this summer since leaving here to accept the island post.

SAN LEANDRO, April 18.—A bandit, masked with a white handkerchief, held up a Union Oil service station on East Fourteenth street last night and took $30 in cash and the masks of gasoline books.

No other site on San Francisco Bay is any longer under consideration by the navy authorities.

We all know that. It is Alameda or nothing, so far as San Francisco Bay is concerned.

And that should be perfectly agreeable to all the communities about the bay. For the proposed naval base will mean added business and industry not merely for the actual locality in which it is situated, but for the whole bay region.

The next Congress doubtless will decide this matter. It does not concern us here. But it is not to be forgotten that the time extension is required solely for that purpose.

The people of Alameda, acting as delegates for all the people around the bay, will see what the situation requires of them. They may be counted upon, one feels sure, to vote right.

RELIGION HUMAN NECESSITY, U. C. PRESIDENT SAYS

Dr. Barrows Gives Final Talk to Students On "What We May Believe"

BERKELEY, April 18.—"Religion experience is human necessity; without it life is poor and unsatisfied; without it our own lives will, in a large part, fail."

In these words President David P. Barrows of the University of California last night urged college students to pray and find solace in religious worship. Speaking in Harmon gymnasium to several thousand students, Dr. Barrows gave the final of two addresses on "Science and Religion." His subject was "What We May Believe."

Dr. Barrows advanced the view that modern science has little to contribute to the definition of the moral character or the establishment of religious belief. "If we limit our assent to the evidences of the sciences as directed by the scientific method, there is no refuge except in the agnostic position," Dr. Barrows told the students. "And the general acceptance of the agnostic position, if logically carried out, must lead to the impairment of the moral order and the abandonment of religious hope."

Warned against neglect, Dr. Barrows said:

"We may be able, living as we do in a society which has inherited its standards of conduct from great ages of faith, to keep our personal behavior in accord with those standards, but we will be simply drawing on a reservoir which will do nothing to replenish and which, if it is not replenished, will in a short time become exhausted. No one, I think, can form for any of you in any great measure your religious beliefs or your religious experiences. You must do this for yourselves. You must find the religious fellowship, if there be such, in which you can find most satisfaction and most congeniality. But one thing I want to urge you that you cannot do. You cannot neglect this matter. It is too important. There is too tremendous and too significant a human experience behind that warns you not to neglect it. There is too much evidence about us of what falls from its neglect. I leave with you the earnest injunction of the Apostle Paul, 'How can we escape if we neglect?'"

In discussing scientific techniques and their relation to religion, Dr. Barrows said:

"To accept the scientific position, however, does not deny us the privilege of belief in things which science cannot disclose. We are permitted and indeed compelled to keep distinct what we accept as scientific knowledge and what we adhere to as religious faith."

FAITH JOINS WITH HOPE.
"Faith is not knowledge in the scientific sense; it is, as the Apostle Paul declared, 'the foundation of things hoped for.' Faith is also connected with hope. A man generally hopes that righteousness and not evil is the underlying principle of the struggle that goes on. We hope that righteousness will prevail. We hope that behind the mystery of the universe there is mind, that is, God. And we hope for this because we know that nature is cold and pitiless, and that man, even the most noble and most sympathetic and loving, as spirits we desire to be joined with spirit. Our human nature is such that we become pessimists with reluctance. It is an unextinguishable hope, then, that leads man to formulate his faith. Faith is more than hope; it contains an element of active will."

"Faith involves a decision, namely, the decision to live so far as we can in the hope and confidence that righteousness will triumph; that God does exist; that our spirit is imperishable. It means taking everything on this hope and directing all the efforts and decisions of life in accordance with this hope; it means a definite choice to try unceasingly to do right instead of allowing ourselves to do what human nature frequently urges us to do; it means the nurturing of religious confidence by care, meditation, worship. And if we will consult the abundant records of religious experience we will find that faith is thus defined and thus treated confidence grows. There is that in religious experience that brings increased assurance."

RUSS TO ACCEPT ARMENIAN COLONY

PARIS, April 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—George R. Montgomery, director of the Armenian American Society, is sailing for the United States on the steamship Olympic, bearing an authorization from the Russian government to arrange for the colonization in Russia of the Armenian refugees, of which there are about 300,000 in various parts of the Near East.

Dr. Montgomery inspected some of the lands, especially some tracts between the Kuban and Don rivers and in Transcaucasia.

M. Karachian, Soviet under-secretary of state for foreign affairs, said Russia would take care of 50,000 persons during the first year and an equal number each succeeding year until the operation was completed. The Soviet agrees to give the Armenian an autonomous government under what is called the cantonal form, what is to say, with their own Soviet.

PHARAOH TOMB IS IN BASEMENT

PHILADELPHIA, April 18.—The complete tomb of Ra-ka-pou, of the fifth dynasty, has been set up in the basement of the University Museum here. The inner-chamber of the Egyptian. The tomb is similar to that of Tut-Ankh-Amen's.

The tomb was brought to this city from Saqqara, near ancient Memphis, Egypt. In the center of the reconstructed tomb is a stone sarcophagus of Pharaoh. The tomb walls are composed of gigantic blocks.

Upon the walls, carved in bas-relief, are scenes from the life of Ra-ka-pou. They are painted in fresh-looking colors, as though the work had been touched up recently.

The weight of the tomb is so great that the University officials were forced to put the structure in the basement as they feared to place it on the floor of the Museum proper.

300,000 TO GET ARMY TRAINING

The department estimates that 225,000 men will attend the National Guard, organized reserves, reserve officers training corps and the citizens' military training camps. About 50,000 officers and men of the regular army will assist in the training. The remaining troops of the regular forces have been provided with a program of their own.

Oven Heat Control A Feature of This New Wedgewood

It does away with all guesswork and enables housewives to do their cooking on a scientific basis. There is no more "wondering" whether the oven is hot enough for baking—simply turn the thermostat indicator to the exact degree of heat required and there it remains until the food is thoroughly cooked. With a thermostat-equipped Wedgewood, less time is spent in the kitchen, for after the food is placed in the oven, it may be left for three to five hours, as the heat never varies. There is a remarkable saving of gas with the thermostat, as only the exact amount of gas needed is consumed.

HOUSE FIGHT ON BUDGET BLOCKED BY RULES OF BODY

Consideration by Assembly
As Committee of Whole Is Prevented.

TRIBUNE BUREAU, SACRAMENTO, April 18.—In the Assembly there has been an interesting trial of strength between administration forces and the opposition. This came about during the discussion of the amended budget when Assemblyman Roy Pelton of San Francisco pronounced that the house should go into committee as a whole to take up the matter. And give it a thorough examination. The course would have meant not attack on the budget, and probably would have resulted in further political setbacks for the administration which would like to see these contentious budget affairs out of the way as speedily as possible. However, Pelton forced a vote on his motion, and greatly to the surprise of both of the other anti-administration members the motion was carried by a vote of 14-12.

RULE BLOCKS BATTLE
Consideration began when Pelton's motion was adopted. Some of the members of the assembly were in the expectation of some real fireworks when Assemblyman Henry Carter of Los Angeles floor leader of the house jumped to his feet and announced that the house will not go into committee as a whole when bills are up for final passage. In this he was supported by Speaker Frank P. Merriam, who ruled accordingly. The proposition of another hot budget fight went plummeling. However, the Pelton motion has certainly indicated that the Assembly opposition is to be reckoned with.

Another bill which was "killed" in a committee of the Assembly was the measure of Assemblyman S. L. Heisenger providing for "eugenic marriages" and for the sterilization of persons who are also intended to be married. A large delegation is present from San Francisco and Los Angeles in support of the measure. The measure is opposed by members of the Senate who have passed the bill of Senator Tom Lister of Grays Valley, which has for its purpose the prevention of eugenic marriages and which provides that the marriage ceremony can only take place ten days after the license has been granted. The bill is for the purpose of sterilizing one person when the result of a eugenic marriage is a child.

Committee O. K. Put on School Bible Measure

TRIBUNE BUREAU, SACRAMENTO, April 18.—The assembly of the California legislature will be asked to take up the discussion of what promises to be one of the most contentious measures which have yet come before the house as a result of the approval given by the committee on education to the bill of Rev. David C. Williams of LeGrand providing for the teaching of "any authorized version of the Bible" in the public schools of the state. This action of the committee comes as a surprise since it was believed that the bill would never reach the floor of the Assembly.

Chairman C. C. Baker and Assemblyman C. W. Woodbridge were the only members of the committee to vote against the measure. Six members voted for it. A certain amendment was made to the amendments and the bill is now ready to be taken up. The amendments are first to provide the bill in the public schools and second to constitute a separate section on the teaching of the Bible. The first section provides for instructing children in the deleterious effects of alcohol and narcotics. The second amendment

Soaking takes the place of rubbing

Just by soaking in the suds of this new soap, dirt is gently loosened and dissolved. Even the dirt that is ground-in at cuff edges, hems, and neck bands is so loosened by soaking in Rinso suds, that it comes out with only a light rubbing. Do that light rubbing with Rinso. A little sprinkled on the worst spots will make them disappear.

Not a thread is weakened. The mild cleansing suds work gently through and through the clothes without injury to a single fibre.

'FLIVVER TRUCK' WEIGHT TAX CUT FROM BREED BILL

Assembly Motor Vehicle Committee Amendment to Reduce Revenue.

TRIBUNE BUREAU, SACRAMENTO, April 18.—An amendment eliminating "flivver trucks" of 2000 pounds weight or under, from the provisions of the Breed Motor Vehicle Bill, as far as the weight tax of $10 on trucks is concerned, was passed late last night by the Assembly motor vehicle committee at the request of Supervisor William Scott of San Francisco, head of a deputation of bay region automobile and truck concerns. Senator Breed subsequently declared that the financial effect of the amendment would be to cut out $800,000 annually from the revenue to be produced by his proposed Motor Vehicle Bill.

Several other minor amendments were made to the bill, and a subcommittee was appointed to go into the question of headlights. Among the automobiles men who attended the meeting was Robert Martland of Oakland. Martland declared that the automobile industry, which he represents, favors the breed bill, and will support the measure.

Bull Gores Horse, Chases Motor Car

WOODLAND, April 18.—A bull owned by Zachariah Kincheloe of this city, went on a rampage yesterday opposite the R. R. Lockhardt ranch four miles from Woodland, gored a horse ridden by Lyle Johnson, killed the horse and chased a motor car driven by Johnson by a barbed wire fence.

The infuriated animal took after a small automobile driven by Robert Dockhardt, but was distracted. Earl Murray, employee of the Lockhardt place, was called to help and came armed with a shotgun. Six charges of buckshot and a rifle bullet were necessary to end the animal's life. The bull is credited with previously having killed one horse and gored two others. Johnson is under a doctor's care here.

Execution Takes Place At Petrograd On Orders
From Moscow.

LONDON, April 18.—(By International News Service.)—Five staff officers of the Red Army accused of espionage, were executed at Petrograd on orders from the Moscow Soviet government, said a Central News despatch from Helsinki this afternoon.

Premier A. Boni Law presided at a meeting of the British cabinet today when Lord Curzon, the foreign secretary, made a general report upon the case of the five officers. It is understood that Curzon's attitude toward Russia was discussed in detail.

Owing to the manner in which official Russian newspapers have treated the execution of the officers, the case of the officers is being followed with interest in this country.

Tikhon, the British government is giving more than ordinary attention to the reported anti-religious movement in Russia. The foreign office has not been officially advised as to the date of Patriarch Tikhon's trial. It is believed generally his sentence, if imprisonment rather than death.

WOMAN RELATES SLAYING DETAILS

FRESNO, April 18.—A description of severe beatings she said she received at the hands of the man for whom she declared she deserted her home and husband and whom she later slew when she was threatened with abandonment when she was penniless was given in court here by Mrs. Anna Barres in the second day of her trial for the murder of Nick Locolano. Locolano was slain last January.

District Attorney George R. Lovejoy completed the state's case this afternoon after he had introduced evidence in an effort to prove Mrs. Barres guilty of cold blooded murder. The prosecution declared Mrs. Barres' motive in killing Locolano was jealousy of another woman and her fear of desertion. Mrs. Barres in her testimony be-

QUARTET TO SING FOR ORPHANS AT THEATER PARTY

Tribune and Century Play-houses Arrange Entertainment for Children

The Century Four, a new aggregation of singers at the Oakland Century Theater, will entertain children from the various orphanages of the city at the TRIBUNE-CENTURY Theater orphan party, April 21, when Jack Russell and his entertainers will offer their original farce, "King Tut's Tomb."

The singers formerly were known as the Golden Gate Quartet and are famous in musical comedy circles on the Pacific Coast. They have just returned from Shanghai, China, where they entertained at one of the big European clubs. Prior to that they played an engagement of one year in San Francisco.

Jack Russell will be seen in "King Tut's Tomb" in his famous blackface characterization of Jake Alabaster. Westport. The vehicle was written by the executive staff of the theater and the little negro boy portrayed by Russell is taken by a tourist to the tomb of King Tut-Ankh-Amen in Luxor, Egypt, and, with many laughs, he explores its contents. Assisting the comedian in prominent parts are Walter Spencer, Jackie Brunea, Arthur Van Slyke, Billy De Vore, Florence Spurrier and Evelyn Du Train.

The children will be brought to and from the theater by the California Transit Company, and all orphanages of the city will turn out en masse. The general public will be admitted on that day, as usual.

Candy, balloons and toys will be given to the kiddies by the management of the theater, and as a special added attraction Herbert A. Harris general manager of the playhouse, has engaged the services of the Palo Alto Military Academy's band. It will appear in concert under the leadership of Col. D. A. Kelley. A hint will be given by Jack Russell' Jr. son of the comedian.

May Lose Right Eye From Row in Garage

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—With the probable loss of his right eye and his nose broken by blows from a revolver, Nathan Burke, 40, today sought medical attention for the first of a trauma which he claims attacked him in the Herald garage, where he and Eddie Smith, 37, were working. According to reports, the police Brown kept his machine in the garage and a car today left the place with Burke's eye and nose washed on where it should be parked. One would not be much surprised to find the police Brown a pistol and stuck him in the chest.

The incident occurred in the garage of the Central Hotel, where the police Brown and the police Brown were working. The police Brown was working in the garage of the Central Hotel, where the police Brown and the police Brown were working.

SWEDEN GIVES AID TO ARTISTS

STOCKHOLM, April 18 (By Associated Press).—Artists in Sweden who happen to be in narrow circumstances have suddenly been cheered by the news that the government stands ready to spend 270,000 kroner about $72,000, in the purchase of their pictures.

The Swedish scheme for coming to the rescue of artists is regarded as a very favorable one to all artists concerned. The government raises the money through a lottery. It acquires valuable paintings and sculptures and sets them in the museums. The money is then placed in schools, institutions, where it will prove a valuable aid to the public and at the same time help the artist by giving him a place for his work.

The investment of funds and the purchase of art is to be in the hands of a committee of artists and others under the chairmanship of the famous landscape painter Carl Larsson.

The committee will inspect paintings and sculptures and select the best for purchase. It will also have the right to purchase works in current exhibitions where the artist can be seen.

Carl Larsson, minister of the arts, said in a statement that the high cost of living and the low wages of artists are the main reasons for the scheme.

No political or class considerations will be taken into account in the selection of works for purchase. The committee will also have the right to purchase works in current exhibitions where the artist can be seen.

STUDENTS OPEN ALAMEDA SCHOOL BOND CAMPAIGN

Parade Planned to Show the Voters Need of New High Building.

ALAMEDA, April 18.—Vote yes for Alameda high school bonds. This is the slogan being carried to every resident of the city by high school students. Each pupil in the institution has been appointed to serve as a committee of one to work toward the success of the $750,000 bond issue for a high school. The issue will be voted on May 1.

With this goal in view, the students are planning to hold a parade on April 26 in connection with Alameda Bond Day, to be held under the auspices of the retail merchants section of the Alameda Chamber of Commerce, in Neptune Beach.

The object of the undertaking is to bring to the minds of voters of the city the need of a new high school in the Emerald city to house the rapidly increasing enrollment.

PARADE PLANS.
Tentative plans for the parade as announced by Dr. George Thompson, principal of the school, following a meeting of the faculty advisors of the school, held in the auditorium yesterday afternoon, are as follows:

All of the 16 classes in the school have pledged their support in making the parade one of the biggest affairs ever held in Alameda. Each will have representation in the parade, as will various groups, clubs and organizations.

Yell leaders under the direction of Bill Low are devising new yells for the day as well as new slogans to shout as they march along. The Glee Club and the high school orchestra will furnish the musical part of the program and are now rehearsing new songs and pieces with the bond issue as the theme.

Special sections in the parade will be given to the art classes, senior girls and woodworking departments. Members of the musical organization are preparing a float, which will illustrate in an original way the urgent needs for a new school.

TO PRESENT NEEDS.
One of the original features in the event will be the display by the banking department, which plans to keep its ideas a profound secret until the day of the parade. This department has occupied crowded quarters for some time, and has needed additional floor space for many months, it is said.

The First Aid Club of the school will march in full nursing costumes. At the resort the class will erect a Red Cross tent, which will carry the appeal for assistance in the issue at stake.

One of the most artistic features will be the part taken by the senior girls of the school. They are planning to emulate the famous daisy bearers of Vassar College and will bear through the streets a long chain of daisies, representing the endless chain of students who have passed through the institution.

Alameda Students Hope to Forsake Shacks

Here is a picture of the temporary buildings housing school students of Alameda. A $750,000 bond issue will be voted upon on May 1 and the pupils in the hope of moving into better quarters, are carrying this slogan to every resident of the city: "Vote Yes For Alameda High School Bonds."

and the countless throng which will flock to the school in the years to come.

DIG GAIN SHOWN.

Further campaign plans are being formulated daily, and will be given out from time to time. The committee in charge of the event includes Miss May V. Haworth, Miss Hazel Watrous, Arthur Agard, Paul Evans, A. Goldman, William Minium and Dr. Thompson.

The Alameda Board of Education adopted a resolution on March 22 authorizing the election on the bond issue. The proposed site of the institution is the block at Walnut street, to Oak and from Central avenue to Alameda avenue.

The present high school is no longer able to accommodate the increasing enrollment, which has jumped from 323 pupils when the school was erected 20 years ago to the present one of 1547 pupils in the day school and 514 pupils in the night school. It is estimated by the school board that in 1927 the enrollment will have increased to 2250.

The yearly influx of new pupils in the high school compelled the erection of buildings of a bungalow type on the grounds of the school to accommodate the overflow. Six of these classrooms were built in 1921 and an additional six in 1922, as well as a larger building containing four rooms.

Despite these additions an unprecedented congestion has resulted in the school, which may only be eliminated by immediate

"Let's Dig Deep"

How much for the Community Chest?

What is the Community Chest?

One campaign—one appeal—to care for forty-three organizations for one whole year—forty-three organizations which dispense charity in Oakland—our quota is $486,390—and we have just ten days in which to raise that sum—let's put it over, and put it over BIG!

This is a rich city. Everybody knows Oakland is enjoying a period of unusual prosperity. The people of this city can raise the money for anything they want. Do they want to support our Charities? Charity! What a poor word it is! How it fails to tell the story of the actual conditions. What hunger it hides—what cold and shivering children—what sickness, pain and suffering—motherless babes—starving families deserted by drunken fathers. All we have to do is to re-read the papers of the last few months to see every one of these varieties of suffering repeated time and again. We should be thankful—we should be grateful—to the kind-hearted folk who have organized forty-three separate organizations for the relief of the starving, the sick and the homeless.

Scores and scores and hundreds more of old folks, infirm and ill, boys, girls, mothers—all sorts of people in distress have been helped in countless ways. Protestant, Catholic, Jewish, Y. M. C. A., Red Cross, Salvation Army, Associated Charities—all sorts and descriptions benefit from this fund.

The world is full of wealth. There's enough to eat, warm clothing, comfort for every human being in the world, if we only had a way to properly distribute it. Surely every human being is entitled to relief. The Community Chest is the best organized effort so far attempted. Let's put it over and put it over BIG!

Acknowledgment is made of an advertisement published by Mr. Albert Samuels (of the Albert G. Samuels Co., jewelers), at the time of the San Francisco Community Chest drive, for the above. We have taken the liberty of using his sentences almost word for word on account of their unusually sympathetic appeal.

How much is my share?

To guide contributors in making up their minds on this important question, the Committee offers the following suggestions:

Those with incomes up to $1,200 a year.....	$ 6 a year
Those with incomes up to $1,800 a year.....	$ 9 a year
Those with incomes up to $2,400 a year.....	$12 a year
Those with incomes up to $3,000 a year.....	$20 a year
Those with incomes above $3,000 a year.....	1% of income
Those with incomes above $5,000 a year.....	1 1/2% of income

Those unable to follow these suggestions should give what their hearts dictate.

Every employee of this store has contributed to the Community Chest

SAN FRANCISCO CELEBRATES ITS 1906 REBIRTH

Extensive Programs Offered to Perpetuate Memory of Greater City.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—San Francisco is today celebrating the seventeenth anniversary of her rebirth following the disaster of 1906. The entire day was given over to observance of the date which, while marking the destruction of the old San Francisco, also marks the beginning of a new period of progress and development. Since the fire of 1906, 167,000 new buildings have been erected here.

The day's program included the retelling, in the various schools, of the story of how the city was rebuilt; a parade symbolic of the city's progress since the disaster; luncheons given by business and professional men; a steamship trip about the bay, special programs, dinners and a high jinks.

Arrangements have also been made for an extensive evening program. This will include dancing, music and other entertainment features.

Local motion picture theaters contributed to the observance of the anniversary by showing films setting forth the story of San Francisco's destruction by fire and her work of rebuilding.

A special significance attaches to this year's celebration, as the year 1923 is said to have exemplified in a far greater degree than any previous year, San Francisco's triumph over her misfortune. A special effort has been put forth by the committee in charge of arrangements, to make this observance more extensive and elaborate than any of the former ones have been.

With the exception of 1907, when money and effort was necessary in order that the city might survive, the building program for the past year has nearly doubled that of any other year. The building record for the last year stands as the highest in the city's history.

Real estate transactions, bank clearings and postoffice receipts have also shown a great expansion during 1922.

The celebration today was also in the nature of a "Fire Prevention Day," the climax of this year's "Fire Prevention Week."

The program for this evening follows:

6:30 p. m.—Dinner and high jinks, Commercial Club.

Evening—Programs, dancing and entertainment by local order of Moose, San Francisco Lodge No. 25 at 105 Jones street; also by Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Moose Lodge No. 275, Western Addition Lodge No. 258 and Presidio Lodge No. 334, at Eagles Hall, 275 Golden Gate avenue.

ELSIE FERGUSON MISSISS GUNGE MISSISS GUNGE IN FAGAN PLAY

"The Wheel of Life" Otherwise Well Acted at the Auditorium Theater.

By WOOD SOANES.
And the wheel of life continues its inexorable revolutions, unconscious of human attempts to swerve it from its course.

Based on this bit of Hindu philosophy is James Bernard Fagan's "The Wheel of Life," presented at the Auditorium theater yesterday afternoon and evening, with Elsie Ferguson in the stellar role.

The play is unique in that it achieves a new twist on the ever-present triangle, with a touch of mysticism and the lure of India for a background to this tragedy of life, the story of the "giver of sorrow."

Late in life, Colonel John Dangan married Ruth, who came from a family that had been talked about a bit, but who was "not bad, merely high spirited." Ruth Dangan falls in love with Captain
Leslie Yeulatt, a fine, upstanding Englishman attached to Colonel Dangan's Indian regiment.

So, in the course of time, Captain Yeulatt realizes the hopelessness of remaining near the woman of his unspoken choice and decides to ask for transfer. The wheel of life, however, is not deflected from its natural course. They meet in a Buddhist monastery in the Himalayas.

Here is enacted a stirring scene.
The two lovers are a part of a small enclosure, unexpected of rescue and surrounded by the enemy. They decide upon their course of action.
But once more the wheel makes its presence felt, and the final curtain leaves the auditor realizing that the bonds of marriage will remain fixed, but those of true love will not be unchanged.

Miss Ferguson has the chance of a lifetime in "The Wheel of Life," as inadequate as the play is from a technical viewpoint. Here is the role of the wife standing at the crossroads unable to make her choice between the man who loves her and the man whom she loves.

And who returns her affection in secondary degree, his regiment always being first.
The character of Mrs. Dangan is weak and vacillating, but it is one that calls for more than adept acting. It requires the dramatic spark so infrequently found. It was in this regard that Miss Ferguson faltered yesterday. She was more concerned with the music of her voice than the value of her speeches.

With the exception of a few scenes in the first act, she recited, often like a schoolgirl scanning

AIRPLANE UNDER RADIO CONTROL HAS PARIS TEST

PARIS, April 13 (By the Associated Press).—An airplane controlled by wireless and automatically stabilized made a successful test flight yesterday at Etampes in the presence of Under-Secretary for Aeronautics Dyna.

The plane has been making intermittent flights for the past year. Its stabilization is said to be entirely automatic and the solution of the few remaining problems in connection with its operation are in sight. Although the wireless control is described as perfect, flights for the present will be made with a pilot, who will be employed chiefly as an observer in order that the invention may be developed as far as possible.

Military observers believe that passengerless airplanes may prove most valuable when used as bombers. However, it is proposed to utilize them for such purposes as the transportation of mail to Africa.

PERU NAMES ADVISER.
LIMA, Peru, April 13.—Dr. Jose
Salvador Cervero, senator and jurist, has been named legal adviser for Peru in the Tacna-Arica arbitration proceedings. He will not leave for Washington for several weeks.

verse, and the anguish of her soul in a line of unrevealed except through the spoken lines. It was a reading sifted and lacking in sympathy, and the set cadences made for monotony rather than rhythmic beauty.

Not so with her supporting company. On the selection of this group of players is Marc Klay, the producer, to be commended and congratulated. Without exception, the principal roles were played splendidly. Particularly fine were the two men around whom the affections of Mrs. Dangan flutter.

Frederick Worlock is reminiscent of Lou Tellegen in his work. He has a vibrant voice, ease of movement and gesture, perfect diction in his reading and dramatic poise and manners. As the lover he was a picture of virility. C. T. Davis was equally effective as Colonel Dangan, and his scenes in the last act with his wife gave a fine touch to the production.

In the supporting company Ed-Coxley stands head and shoulders above the rest with his deft and interpretation of the English stock head; and next to him is J. Fisher White, imported, as were the other players from England, for the role of the maid, the play's personage in three acts, with a picturesque temple scene for the last two acts and a beautiful lighting effect.

The play as a play is inclined to the tedious and lacks dramatic movement through the introduction of long meaningless monologues and a general lack of action. Its charm was its novelty, its scenic investiture, the general excellence of Miss Ferguson's supporting players and the brief moment of pathetic acting she gave in the first act, when she learned from her husband that her lover had decided to leave her.

SALONIKA HAS RECOVERED MUCH OF PROSPERITY

Recovering From Economic Blight Under New Jugo-Slav Rule.

SALONIKA, Greece, April 18.—While other parts of Greece have been suffering from the economic blight and commercial stagnation engendered by the disastrous Asia Minor military campaign, Salonika has been making remarkable strides toward regaining the prosperity and prestige it enjoyed before the war. The city where Paul first preached the gospel to the unbelievers is fast becoming one of the most important ports in the Near East.

Three factors have contributed to this. The destruction by fire of Smyrna has diverted a considerable part of the traffic of that once great port to Salonika, which is only 40 hours distant. Then the recent agreement between Greece and Yugoslavia, by which the latter country is given a free commercial outlet at Salonika, has given a distinct impetus to the import and export business of the city.

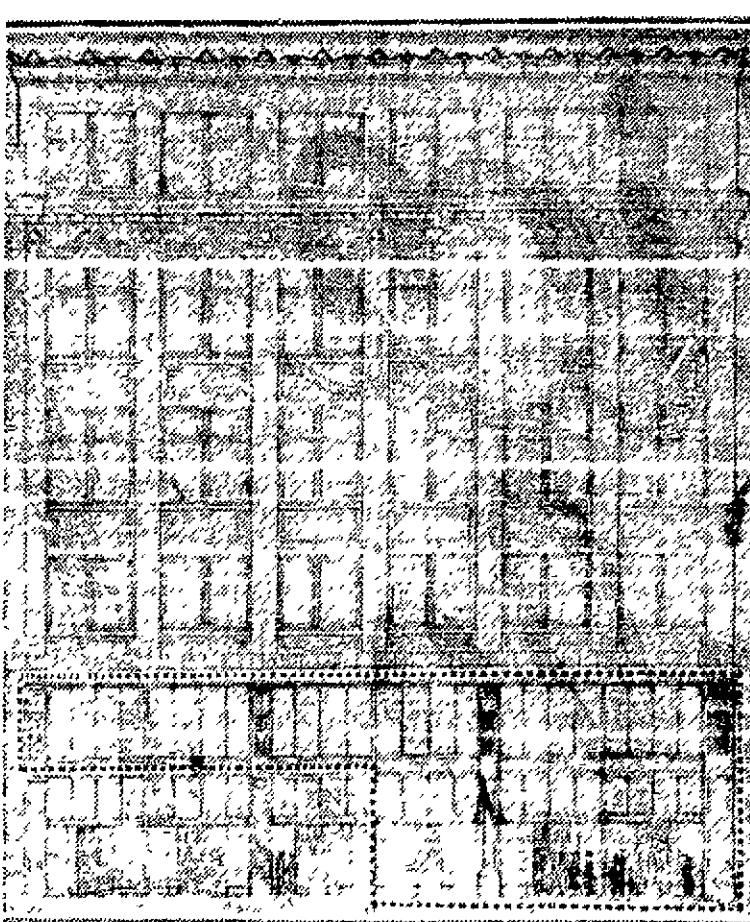

The third element in Salonika's commercial rehabilitation is the vigorous work of the residents in reconstructing the city, which was laid waste by fire in 1918. Whole blocks of modern business buildings, hotels, warehouses, garages and cinema houses are springing up, seemingly overnight.

Greece and Yugoslavia are now working in the closest economic and political harmony. This is due principally to the policy of the present revolutionary government in Athens in adopting the former Venizelist attitude toward Yugoslavia, which always was based upon the most friendly relations with the Serbs.

The commercial convention by which Yugoslavia is given customs and administrative control of Salonika while that city remains under the sovereignty of Greece, will be of vast benefit to both countries. Greece is assured of the fullest military and moral support from Yugoslavia in the event of aggression from Greece's troublesome neighbors, Turkey and Bulgaria.

Salonika will have free access to the Aegean Sea. This will give her direct trade routes to the markets of Europe and is of vital importance to the Serbs, as their only other ports are small and inaccessible towns on the Dalmatian coast.

San Francisco Suit Firm Takes Long Lease on Broadway Site

Outlined portion of picture shows part of new Kahn building addition, Sixteenth and Broadway, to be occupied by Golden Gate Clock and Suit House.

Irving Kahn Tells of the Development of Oakland Retail Center.

Marking another step forward in the development of upper Broadway into a big retail center is the announcement today of the lease for a period of years of the corner of Sixteenth and Broadway to the Golden Gate Clock and Suit House of San Francisco.

"The closing of this important lease is further proof that Oakland is striving ahead toward the goal that will ultimately give this district the financial status it deserves," is the substance of a statement issued today by Irving Kahn.

Work has begun on the erection of a six-story building, the plans of which are being prepared by E. W. Cannon, architect, and the contractors are the MacDonald and Kahn Construction company. The building will be 100 feet high, facing Broadway and Sixteenth streets. One-half of the ground floor of this new Kahn building, together with the entire second floor, will be occupied by the Golden Gate Clock and Suit House.

"The upper stories and part of the ground floor will be occupied by Kahn Bros.' department store to take care of our rapidly growing business. This addition of 10,000 square feet will make Kahn Bros. the second largest department store in the San Francisco bay region."

"We are glad to welcome the Golden Gate Clock and Suit House as competitors because of their standing as dependable merchants, and it is this type of new business that will always be welcome to Oakland. There is now on this side of the bay a population of over 400,000 people who can reach the new Golden Gate Clock and Suit House store with greater ease and comfort in their new location."

A Silverman, president of the Golden Gate Clock and Suit House, says: "We have been in business in San Francisco for 25 years, and during that time we have made a wonderful growth. We have watched the wonderful industrial and commercial development of the Eastbay cities and with the same degree of progressiveness, we have decided to embark on business in Oakland in what we believe to be the present and future choicest and most profitable district of the city."

"The growth on upper Broadway has just started, and within a period of two years this district has developed in an amazing way. Mainheim & Mayor's new store, Reich & Lewis's splendid building, Ross Bros.' monumental new establishment, Kahn Bros.' addition, and

MERCIER PLEADS WORLD CRUSADE AGAINST SOVIETS

Belgian Cardinal Urges That League "Wipe Out Barbarism."

NEW YORK, April 18 (By Associated Press).—Cardinal Mercier, of Belgium, heroic prelate of the world war, has written Columbia, the official magazine of the Knights of Columbus, suggesting that the league of nations start an international crusade against the Russian Soviets to wipe out barbarism and safeguard civilization.

"In four years," wrote Cardinal Mercier, "the world war moved down, I believe, ten millions of human lives. In a little more than that time Bolshevism has sacrificed from twenty to thirty millions."

"It is not for me to suggest the means whereby the red hands shall be disarmed and the legion of honor created which shall take the magnificent task of pacifying Russia, and I surmise that if such a bold suggestion should reach the ears of the civil and military heads of some of the world's great nations, it would find it appropriate or strategic."

"EXPERIMENT IN BLOOD."
"Would not the league of nations win universal confidence at one stroke if it succeeded in opening an international crusade against the barbarism of the Soviets for the safeguarding of our age-old civilization?"

"The war exhausted the finances and perhaps also the reserve energies of the great nations of Europe and the new world; otherwise it would be inexplicable that our people, Belgians, French and Poles, Italians, Great Britain and the United States of America, both peoples and governments, should look on without an outburst of indignation and acting at the instigation of their governments, ally of yesterday, and allow hordes of brigands, led by an international band to experiment in blood on a large and sacrifice their mad dream of communism, and to agree to impose it on the world by means of cannon and rifles, to threaten Poland and Rumania for tomorrow and for the day after perhaps European civilization."

PLEADING PUT OVER.
MARTINEZ, April 18.—On request of the defendants, Superior court today continued the trial of L. R. and Fred Stubbins, charged with the murder of a woman, until next Monday. The Stubbins will plead two weeks hence.

WIFE CITES DESERTION.
YUBA CITY, April 18.—Anna Chung has filed an action in the superior court here against Russell Chung for a divorce, alleging desertion and neglect. They were married in Missouri in August, 1922, and have one child. The complaint states that the desertion occurred February 10, 1922.

DISBARMENT IS AFFIRMED.
LOS ANGELES, April 18.—The disbarment of A. J. Montgomery, San Diego attorney, by the superior court of San Diego county for violation of professional ethics, was affirmed by the appellate court today.

Trout Give Way To Golf Balls in Gilroy Reservoir

GILROY, April 18.—The trout that for the past few years have inhabited the reservoir supplying city water, and occasionally revealed themselves via outlets in the water mains, no longer mean anything in the busy life of Ray Burgess, City Engineer. Intake screens have solved the fish problem, as a recently completed job of cleaning proved. But a new and unexpected revelation was unveiled—the reservoir is now a golf ball.

Considerable city land surrounds the reservoir, and a year ago when the Gilroy Golf club came into existence, its officers took to the beautiful, rolling tract like trout to the reservoir in times past. Conditions for a course were excellent, and, as the result of subsequent arrangements, the landscape is dotted each sunny day with aspiring local golfers, while intentions may be good in many cases, execution is poor; hence the drowning of many good balls.

The situation is at present without a remedy. There is no more enthusiastic golf-bug than Mayor Jas. Prineville, who has undoubtedly consigned his share of balls into the city's drink. Official action is blocked.

LONDON, April 18.—(By The Associated Press).—Britishers from all parts of the United Kingdom who desire to go to the United States are finding the American consul here with complaints that the shipping companies decline to give them accommodations on the ground that the facilities are entirely taken up to July 1.

FASCISTI WARN MEXICO AGAINST UNJUST STRIKES

Mussolini Followers Claim Membership of 250,000 Persons.

By FREDERICK G. NEUMEIER,
United Press Staff Correspondent.
MEXICO CITY, Mexico (By mail to the United Press).—The Fascisti of Mexico have "broken lances" with radical labor.

Mussolini's followers in this country have attacked actions of Mexican labor and announce that they will take steps against any "unjust" strikes.

During a recent strike in which an American organization was involved, the Fascisti tore down the red and black flag of labor which prevented entrance to the office of the company. They now have the flag in their headquarters as the first "trophy of war" against what the Fascisti call "Bolshevism."

Over 250,000 persons in this country are now on the rolls of the Fascisti, officials of the organization announce. There are seven newspapers in seven states controlled by the organization in addition to a paper here.

The Fascisti has carried its fight against unlawful strikes to President Obregon, announcing that it does not have a quarrel with the government, but does have one Obregon answering a telegram of Fascisti members relative to a recent strike replied as follows:

"The conflict you mention should be solved entirely according to our laws and with this in view I have given instructions to the authorities who are in charge of such matters."

The strike ended the next day.

Point Blank: will you try Royal Cords this year?

WHETHER it's the tire business or some other business—wherever there's lost motion someone has to foot the bill.

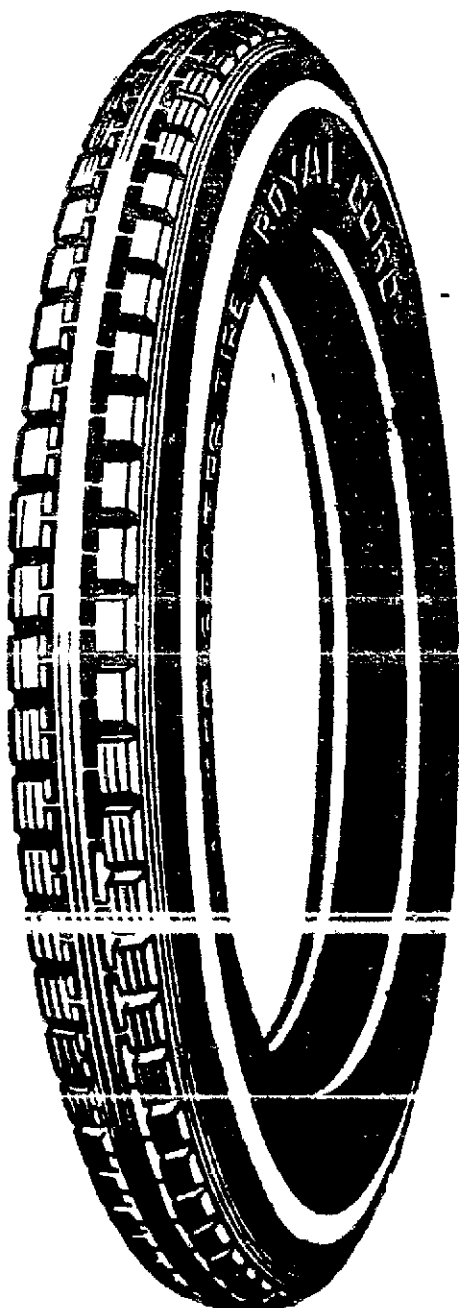

Nothing pays more than being simple and keeping simple.

Give people the best money's worth and forget profits.

This works. So much so that there is confident expectation of a million new users of U. S. Royal Cords in 1923.

New car-owners, who have never bought tires before.

And the very sophisticated ones, too, who know all the ins and outs of the "tire market."

The makers of U. S. Royal Cords are in possession of lots of facts which compare their tire with tires in general.

But the Royal Cord policy is against campaigning exceptional mileages—even though U. S. Tires do deliver them.

The makers of Royal Cords do not sell by "big discounts" and other unsound practices, either.

The good, clean value of a Royal Cord is its own inducement.

Royal Cords reach out for new friends on this back plane.

They simply ask you to try Royal Cords this year.

One million new users will say this year:
"Royal Cords!"

CUSTARD PIE IN IDOL'S EYE IN 'THING OF CRUST'

Impulse Too Strong For Girl Athlete in Masque
Burlesque

BERKELEY, April 18.—When men students poke fun at the Parthenon of University of California, women it's one thing, but when the co-eds themselves burlesque the annual masque of maidenhood—well it's entirely different.

Details of a secret burlesque on this year's masque, staged behind closed doors for women spectators only, have just become known on the campus. Prominent among the details is a custard pie hurled in true Charlie Chaplin fashion by the university's star woman athlete, Miss Iona Noble.

For the burlesque this year's was a "thing of crust." All of the allegorical characters of the masque were impersonated by co-ed leaders in grotesque costumes.

The high priest presiding over the burlesque by impersonating the loss of the insurance in the real Parthenon through a "mean trick" of the weather man, Marion Harrow, playing this part, suggested the sacrifice of a pie to appease the wrath of the angry god, Helios.

Maryum, Margaret Maxwell, the maiden, refused to make the sacrifice, and the priest called for other aids.

Adventure was dragged in in a huge treasure chest, the girl, Mathew, who played the part, expected a dance. The idol was unaffected, then Iona Noble, as Sene of Humor, entered bearing a large custard pie, and thereby hangs a tale, for Miss Noble is a co-ed athlete with a sure aim, and a mean swing.

The co-ed idol sat smiling at "Sense of Humor," who was to make a point of throwing the pie, which was to be followed by a quick curtain. Miss Noble pretended to take aim, and made a pass with the pie. But the college-trained muscle was too much for the custard pie, which sailed through the air and landed straight in the face of the surprised face of the idol.

Baccus Is Sued by Injured Workman

William J. Baccus, as commissioner of streets, and the Globe Indemnity company, his surety bondsmen, are made defendants in a suit for $50,000 damages filed in the superior court by J. H. Lehman, who declares he was trampled upon by a team of horses while employed as a laborer in an excavation.

Lehman declares that on May 19 last he was working on East Fourteenth street, in front of the Durant factory, when the team of horses, attached to a plow and engaged in work for the street department, trampled upon him.

Lehman states his injuries included a fractured hip, broken ribs, and a concussion of the brain. Figuring his expectancy of life at twenty-five years at a monthly salary of $91, Lehman asks $27,000 damages on this ground and $23,000 for physical injuries from Baccus and $10,000 from the Globe Indemnity company, the amount of the surety bond.

Slain Man Leaves Estate to Friend

STOCKTON, April 18.—The will of the late Sherman M. Joslin, who was murdered on the ranch between this city and Lodi last Friday, has been filed for probate in the superior court, revealing an estate valued at more than $10,000. It is bequeathed entirely to Victoria L. Laverne, business partner and friend of deceased Joslin, who was shot on his own doorstep by Joe Metti, a farmhand employed on the place. Metti then killed Mrs. E. V. Mourier, cook, and blew his own head off with the same weapon, a shotgun. There were no witnesses. Jealousy over the woman and a quarrel over wages each have their supporters as the cause of the tragedy.

GAINS WEIGHT ON COUNTRY HOLIDAY

"Why, Louise—back so soon? I thought you were going to stay up in the country for another week at least. You look so much better. You get all well after the flu?"

"Indeed I did. Got rid of that horrid cold on my chest and everything. Had the best time! It has been so warm, you know. I took long walks every day and picked flowers. I drank a lot of milk and slept nine hours every night. My aunt is the world's best cook, too."

"Oh, you did have a real time. Makes me positively jealous of you. Think of wandering around out in the country in the Spring. But you didn't tell me why you came back a week early."

"Oh! Well, I went to get well, and I did. Therefore, since I am frightfully hard up anyway, thought I'd better get back on the job as soon as possible."

"Yes, that probably is a wire idea, too. We're glad to see you back, and glad to see you looking so well. I'll wager you gained five or ten pounds."

"Oh, did! Milk is fattening, you know, and I drank a quart or more every day. I'll probably lose all my weight again worrying about expenses. I need some Spring dresses and a sport coat, and haven't the wherewithal to buy them."

"Now, don't you worry about a single thing. That would spoil your nice holiday. Besides, you can buy the nicest new clothes ever at Cherry's. They encourage their customers to open charge accounts and they make arrangements for monthly payments." 615 12th street. Cherry's store for men is at 623 13th street.—Advertisement.

Things They Ask the Tribune

BUREAU OF INFORMATION

"Is E. W. Bower, author of 'Chip of the Flying U,' and 'The Thunder Bird' a man or a woman?"

A woman. Her name is Bertine Mazzy Sinclair.

"Is lemonade made in an aluminum pan, and if so, does the acid affect the aluminum? I made some in one and it tasted bad."

According to a local aluminum manufacturing company, it is not advisable to leave lemonade standing in an aluminum receptacle for any length of time, as it is likely to injure the receptacle. Lemonade made in such receptacle can be used, but should be drunk within a short time after it is made. Representatives of this aluminum company state that use of aluminum receptacles has never been known to poison anyone.

"Is a picture by the name of 'McTeague' being filmed by the Goldwyn Studios? If so, when will it be released?"

The picture referred to is being filmed at the present time and will probably be released in about three months.

"How do you use lime for slugs—slaked or unslaked? Either way."

How do you use it for this purpose?

"Place under a board or sprinkle in a circle around the edge of the garden."

"What is a good remedy to use when the leaves of a rose bush turn rusty?"

Make a solution of Bordeaux mixture, 10 parts water to one part Bordeaux mixture, which can be procured at a drug store. Put it on as a spray, or with a whisk broom.

RED DOCTRINES ARE DENOUNCED BY THE D. A. R.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—American women were called upon today by the Daughters of the American Revolution to put their strength into the fight against communism and other radical doctrines.

Following the line of denunciation of Bolshevism in the opening address of Mrs. George Maynard Miner, president-general, the daughters today adopted a resolution declaring it to be the duty of every patriotic woman to defend the country's ideals against false doctrines.

"Forms of radicalism ever growing in volume," the resolution said, "should serve as a spur to American women to inform themselves thoroughly on the principles of American government and the excellence of its institutions, so that coming generations might have the benefit of sound teaching."

BIBLICAL TOWNS FOUND IN SYRIA

PHILADELPHIA, April 17.—Three Biblical towns have been located in the Near East by archaeologists, according to James Alan Montgomery, professor of semiotics at the University of Pennsylvania and president of the American Schools of Oriental Research.

Bethany the home of Mary, Martha and Lazarus of the Old Testament has been identified at Beth-Ananah, and the Biblical towns of Shiloh and Jeshanah have been discovered in the Near East. The site of Bethany has been known during the Christian era and has been a place of pilgrimage for Christians through the ages but the real Bethany of the Old Testament has only been lately fixed, according to Professor Montgomery.

Ananah is mentioned in the scriptures of Jerusalem. It is now believed that the full name of Bethany originally was Beth-Ananah.

Shiloh is where the ark rested.

HARDING BACKS POPPY EMBLEM MEMORIAL DAY

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The wearing of poppies on Memorial Day has been endorsed by President Harding in a letter to T. L. Huston of the New York American League baseball club, who is also commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"I am glad to express my accord," the president wrote, "with the plan which the Veterans of Foreign Wars have put forth to have the people generally wear a poppy on Memorial Day as a testimony of continuing interest in the great cause of which that flower has become in a way emblematic."

"I hope the proposal will be generally accepted this year, for it is certainly an appealing testimony of the nation's continuing sense of its concern for the men who served it during the World war."

The Veterans of Foreign Wars have received a shipment of 200,000 artificial poppies, made by orphans in France, and will distribute them in every state. The poppy was kept by the Hebrews after the conquest of Canaan. It has been located at Khirbet Seltun, by Danish excavators.

HOSPITAL WINS IN ALAMEDA BY COUNCIL ACTION

Rezoning Resolution Adopted by Aldermen Assures Sanatorium.

ALAMEDA, April 18.—Alameda's proposed $250,000 hospital became an assured fact last night when the city council adopted a resolution re-classifying its proposed site at Willow street and Clinton avenue from a class two family residence district to a class six business district.

This action on the part of the city council, it is believed, will clarify the situation and open the way for the erection of the sanatorium, which has been sanctioned by the leading medical authorities in the bay region.

With the adoption of the resolution Dr. Stephens submitted proposed plans for the edifice to the city council. He stated that the plans of the building were being made to overcome any and all possible objections advanced by adjacent property owners, who had opposed the erection of the building.

The hospital project has been cause of a factional war for six months. Opponents to the hospital served the city council with injunctions and restraining orders and finally forced the calling of a referendum election. It is believed by city officials that last night's action will clarify the situation and induce the opponents of the hospital to accept the measure as final.

Housewarming Held At Hayward Theater

HAYWARD, April 18.—The new Hayward theater, constructed at a cost of $100,000, was opened last night with an invitational housewarming. E. A. Hey, president of the Hayward Chamber of Commerce, delivered the address of the evening. Edgar Bayless, well-known organist, has been chosen by S. G. Frankel, manager of the Hayward theater, as organist. Walter Beaton, a virtuoso soloist, sang at last night's performance.

The wheelbarrow is the most commonly seen vehicle in China.

Show Committee Is Chosen By Ad Club

George A. Cummings gave a brief talk before the Oakland Advertising club yesterday on the subject of the club show to be given here next month. The purpose of giving the show, he said, was to bring home to the people of Oakland the fact that an Oakland festival is needed.

FRENCH-TURKISH CLASH THREATENS; CHRISTIANS FLEE

Break Feared Over Chester
Concessions: Kemal
Talks War

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 18 (United Press).—Christians are fleeing from Alexandretta owing to strained relations between France and Turkey, according to official Anatolian news agency advices. Five hundred Armenian families already have departed from the city. An outbreak is feared as a result of recent disagreement, including that over the Chester concession to the United States against which the French have protested to Turkey.

A band of fifty Armenians from Syria attacked a Turkish village called Agadir in the Adana district, according to the news agency. Turkish detachments rushed up and destroyed the attackers, the report states.

The Turks at Adana are in a mood of restrained belligerency as the time for resumption of the Lausanne conference draws near. Ahmet Ishaq arrived here today for a conference with the allies on the subject of the Chester scheme before going to Lausanne.

Bandit Flees When Victim Calls Wife

Opening his door when the bell rang late last night, A. F. Peterson, 611 Fulton street, was met by a young bandit with a white handkerchief tied over his chin, according to a report made to the Oakland police today. Peterson called his wife to the door, he said, whereupon the man fled. Although no gun was in evidence, Peterson told the police that the bandit kept his hand in his pocket in a manner to indicate that he had a revolver there. A good description has been furnished the police.

"LITTLE SCREEN" MOVEMENT NEW OLYMPIAN PLAN

By ROBERT A. DONALDSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LOS ANGELES, April 18.—Movie highbrows will soon be on a par with highbrows of the drama if the plans for a "Little Screen" movement announced today are completed.

The new movement, which will soon be incorporated as "Little Theater Films," will aim to appeal to the small artistic minority in the same manner that the "Little Theater" movement appeals to drama lovers.

"Big producers scoff at the tastes of the minority," declared the head of the proposed company. "But we believe that this minority is strong enough and gaining enough momentum to support the idea throughout the country."

The first activities of the new company, it is said, will be to purchase rights to two foreign films not yet shown in this country—one by Ernst Lubitch, the German director now directing Mary Pickford, and another by Victor Sjöström, noted Swedish director recently arrived in Hollywood, whose pictures created comment in the continent. Later on, several artistic pictures by American directors will be produced.

It is said the movement is supported by many of the biggest directors and writers in Hollywood, who are now turning out "quantity production" pictures for the large film manufacturing companies.

Cruelty Is Charged In Divorce Suit

Last Thursday while she was assisting in the decoration of a room at the Prescott school in preparation for an entertainment, Anthony Depolo, grocer at 1513 Seventh street, entered, knocked her to the floor, struck her again and called her vile names, all before others, declares Mrs. Antoinette Depolo in a suit for divorce charging cruelty. This incident, the wife related, followed many other occasions when Depolo called her names, beat her and threatened her life because of his violent temper. She asks to be given custody of their six children, ages 8 years to five months, and $150 a month maintenance.

POLICE HUNTING FLEEING DRIVER

Two persons, one the victim of a "hit and run" driver, are suffering from injuries today as a result of last night's automobile smash. A. L. Hutton, a painter, residing at 1111 Alice street, was struck down by an unidentified driver in front of his home. He was taken to the Central Emergency Hospital where he was found to be suffering from a fractured skull. The driver of the machine did not stop, and police are searching for him today.

Taft Ku Klux Klan Verdict Reversed

LOS ANGELES, April 18 (By United Press).—The verdict handed down in Kern county last year convicting John H. Vielle of an assault after alleged participation in an asserted Ku Klux Klan raid, stands reversed by the District Court of Appeals here. The decision was handed down by Judge N. P. Conroy.

The decision was based on evidence to the effect that one or more of the jurors on the Kern county grand jury were prejudiced against the Klan as an organization. Vielle was indicted with a number of others after D. R. Mason of Taft was taken from his home and mistreated by a band of masked men.

SLAYS HUSBAND, THEN KILLS SELF

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—While her husband, A. N. Berry, reclined in an easy chair, reading a newspaper, Mrs. Nellie Berry crept up behind him, fired a bullet through his brain and then ended her own life late last night, according to police reports.

"Mr. Berry drove me to do it, so don't blame me. I am not insane, only driven to do it," read a note signed by the woman, which police found on a chair.

Neighbors said Mrs. Berry was intensely jealous of her husband and apparently believed he intended leaving her. "The Berry" came here from Oakland, where relatives reside.

How soon will there be an ARCOLA famine?

DO YOU KNOW that the great demand for heating equipment prevented 5,000 home-owners from getting ARCOLA in the Fall of 1921?

Yet this year three times as many homes are being built.

We can make no more ARCOLAS now than in 1921 because the factories are already filled with orders for larger Ideal Boilers.

Everything points to an unprecedented ARCOLA famine this Fall.

Please help us to avoid disappointing you. Ask your Heating Contractor to give you an estimate today. Ask him to explain just how ARCOLA fills every room with healthful radiator warmth and pays for itself in the fuel it saves.

PERSONALITY

By ARTHUR BROOKS BAKER

Personality is the key to all doors.
Personality is the aim of all ambition.
Personality is the answer to all human questions.
Personality is the measure of life in its height, breadth, depth.
Personality develops through freedom of self-expression, and this freedom comes with knowledge.

Personality is nature expressing its powers and possibilities through a person.

Personality has rarely been expressed more eloquently than in ORLANDO EDGAR MILLER, Ph. D., of London, teacher and builder of men and women.

He is Personality personified in his range of thinking, his power and vision of expression.

Wherever he goes, his Personality commands the attention of thousands.

He is a great awakener of men. Like all the successful, he is much praised and much blamed, but nobody goes to sleep in his presence.

WHEN PROGRESS CALLS AT YOUR DOOR, BE SURE THAT PREJUDICE DOES NOT ANSWER THE BELL.

Hear this master personality of the platform. Study the man, the method, the message.

Learn to be your own best and biggest self.

PERSONALITY IS TO THE PERSON WHAT NATIONALITY IS TO THE NATION.

Thousands trace their independence of mind and spirit to the day they first heard Orlando Edgar Miller.

Make next Sunday your INDEPENDENCE DAY.

test of five campaigns. In Cincinnati, where they encourage distributors to make designations of subscriptions, the Y. M. C. A. has six times as many contributors as it had before the chest plan went into operation.

HAS BEEN SUCCESS IN SMALL CITIES.
"Nor are Community Chest successes confined to large cities. Elmira, N. Y., boasts a federation building which centers many community activities. Ithaca, N. Y., is another small city which has operated successfully, and Elyria, O., which is a contender for honors for establishing the first Community Chest, is proud of its record."

"More than 115 cities have adopted the Community Chest plan. It is estimated that more than 10 per cent is saved in these cities over the old method of operating separate campaigns for financing charitable and welfare agencies."

Charity work presents many complex phases. Financial federations which are coupled with machinery for exchange of views and determination of principles make an appeal to the judgment of representative men in civic and commercial organizations throughout the country. Underlying such work there must be willingness to engage in co-operative endeavor; there must be personal service with a view to the general good, and there must be abiding faith in the honesty and good intentions of the balance of the community. No city goes far or can be fundamentally sound in its attitude on public questions unless its leaders are willing to concede these necessary elements of community progress."

Judgment Once Won Is Shaky on Appeal

Although he won a law suit and got judgment for $2500 Charles Butler probably will lose at the retrial of the case because he did not take an appeal on behalf of one of the defendants. This is the peculiar legal angle which exists in Superior Judge Mortimer Smith's court in the case of Butler against John C. Hughes, P. E. Miller and Gus Schneider. The case grew out of an accident in which Butler was run down by a truck owned by Miller and driven by Schneider.

THROUGH the efficient assimilation of election returns from every precinct of the city by The TRIBUNE, the results of the election night were able to obtain an accurate forecast of the ultimate returns of the primary election within three-quarters of an hour after the polls closed.

These partial returns were telephoned to the TRIBUNE, and the first bulletin flashed on the stereoscopic screen at Thirteenth and Franklin streets told the whole story of the day's activities.

COOPERATION IS

PASTOR'S PLEA

Ministers representing Berkeley and Alameda churches and members of the Oakland Ministerial Union, met at the Y. W. C. A. yesterday to discuss organization of an Alameda County Council of Churches to obtain greater cooperation among the East Bay Protestant churches. Roy B. Guild of New York, secretary of the Federal Council of Churches, who has been the moving spirit in the project, was unable to attend because of serious illness in his family.

After discussing the proposal from all angles it was decided that the pastors present the plan for approval of their respective congregations from the pulpit next Sunday.

H. L. Hagen, president of the Oakland Church Council, detailed the organization of the present council and outlined some of the ideas which Secretary Guild has outlined during his stay here. Talks were made by Dr. J. D. Stephens, president of the Ministerial Union; Dr. L. A. McAfee, First Presbyterian, Berkeley; Dr. R. C. Waddell, First Congregational; Dr. P. M. Siskie, First Presbyterian; Dr. A. T. O'Rear, Pioneer Memorial M. E.; Dr. R. C. Cooper, Brooklyn Presbyterian; and A. G. Cushman, executive secretary of the Y. W. C. A.

Fire in Apartments Is Cause of Panic

CHICAGO, April 18.—(By International News Service.)—Eight families were forced to flee from their homes in their nightclothes and a dozen women were carried by firemen down ladders or stairways to safety in an early morning apartment fire here today.

Panic-stricken women were leaning from windows when firemen arrived on the scene. Several were removed to hospitals suffering from smoke inhalation and hysteria.

The blaze started in the basement, supposedly from an overheated boiler. The damage was small, firemen stated.

Japan Makes New Rules for Shrine

TOKIO, April 18.—Several members of the House of Peers have presented a bill providing for the appointment of a commission to investigate conditions in various shrines of the Empire. Present shrine regulations are thought to be antiquated and to need readjusting to meet the modern tendencies of the nation, and maintain traditions of reverence for the gods and ancestor worship.

Ghosts of Doyle Given New Light

By Photographer

NEW YORK, April 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—Stephen H. Horgan, an old time New York photographer and expert on engraving, has challenged Sir Arthur Conan Doyle to name a ghost picture subject for photography he could not produce. Horgan promised to produce so-called "spirit" photographs under instructions given by Sir Arthur at the International Photographic Arts and Crafts exposition which opens here Sunday.

Published under supervision of Sir Arthur or his representatives, he offers to photograph any individual sister and guarantee that a ghost would appear on the plate in accordance with Sir Arthur's instructions. Horgan said his demonstration would show up Sir Arthur's "spirit" photographs as entirely human in their production.

"Photographers realize that Sir Arthur has been completely hoodwinked by these pictures," said Horgan. "The general public may not know it but, during the war, glass was scarce and photographic plates were used again and again. They were washed in many solutions and then resold. In many cases, however, light impressions of the original photographs remained on these plates."

Frank Pearson, another experienced photographer, expressed the opinion that a spirit has never been photographed and never would.

"The trick used in making these pictures is an old one," he said. "A photograph is taken on a plate and then everything is removed from the plate except the single, faint impression that it is desired shall remain. This impression is so faint that you can hold the plate up to the light and it will not show. The eye cannot detect it. The plate is then recoated with this faint stain still on the glass."

POVERTY CAUSE OF ATTEMPTED POISON SUICIDE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—"It was all storms and muddy streets, and poverty." This was the explanation made today at the Central Emergency hospital by Miss May Allen, 23, a hairdresser, who yesterday attempted to end her life by swallowing poison. Miss Allen swallowed the poison at her apartment, 431 O'Farrell street, and then, overcome with fear and remorse, called her fiancé, James Cartwright, 41 Parker avenue, on the telephone.

"Jim, I've taken poison," she said. "I felt blue and melancholy, and I just had to do it." She may not recover.

WAVE LENGTHS FOR 36 CITIES ARE ANNOUNCED

Communities Are Falling in Line With Plan.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—(By International News Service.)—Specific wave lengths for 36 cities where there are important broadcasting stations were made public today by Secretary of Commerce Hoover. The allocations were arranged following the national radio conference in Washington recently and have been sent to the district inspectors. Slight changes to meet local conditions may be necessary, Secretary Hoover pointed out.

"Every station which the department has so far heard from is willingly falling in with the plan," Secretary Hoover said. "Of course, it is understood that any station now operating on 360 meters has the privilege of remaining on the wave length."

Chief Radio Inspector W. D. Terrell said the plan of putting the new radio regulations into effect May 15 would be carried out. With in a short time after that date it is anticipated the new system will be in smooth working order.

The wave lengths announced are for cities and not for specific stations.

Superintendent and Pupils Play Marbles
(By International News Service.)

GALATIN, Mo., April 18.—Not only does L. A. Hosman, superintendent of the Gallatin public schools, believe that it is all right and proper for children to play marbles, but he also plays at the age-old spring pastime himself. He is a marble "bicker."

Since marble season began it is not an uncommon sight to see Hosman at one of the school's playgrounds, mingling and "shootin'" marbles with several two-headed youths.

One morning recently while the superintendent was in conference with several teachers, a lot of six years tugged at his coat and said: "Mr. Hosman, buy this agate. I want to see the boy."

"I'm not in the market for agates today," the superintendent responded.

"Well, buy these," pulling out several crocheries. "What'll you pay?"

"A nickel for 10."

Five pennies were counted out in Hosman's palm and the deal was made.

Baby Branded by Mother Found in Near East Search

NEW YORK, April 18.—A prevention of impending disaster which impelled a mother, now in California, to brand her baby son with a knife at the outbreak of the world war in Turkey, has led to finding the son among children rescued by Near East relief workers according to Land Archer of Wichita, Kan., who has just returned from the Near East.

The boy was branded with a terrible series of red, circular scars parallel to two rows across the full width of the boy's shoulders. Archer states that the boy, if lost in the separations of families which he feared would come, must present a conspicuous check on reason for attracting attention and make him forever remembered.

Thanks to the brand, therefore,
the boy is being sought in Dinabur, California, and is being sought to her as an actual reunion with the blue-eyed, golden-haired son who has been lost for eight years.

The boy was stolen from her when two years old by a Turkish officer, near Maridin, during the looting of the city along with other children.

Erzerum to the Arabian desert, in June, 1915, according to reports filed by the mother with American authorities at Beirut.
The father died from privations, but the mother was used to her country. After a vivid dream that the boy still lived, she determined to try a search.

"I was begun two years ago," said Archer. "The mother entered the aid of Mrs. Adelaide S.
Dwight, a Smith College woman, who broadcasted drawings of the remarkable scars over the entire United States and the machinery of the Near East Relief. Finally one of the drawings came into the hands of a Kansas school teacher, Mrs. Carolyn McAfee, of Kansas City, Mo. The boy thought of the mother's hopeless quest led her to make a personal inspection of every rescued child among ten thousand as they were brought out of Turkey to safety.
But she heard of the curious brand before she saw it. The boy was famous for it among refugees and orphan children.

"The boy's side of the story is that he was sought for the sum of fifty cents by the Armenian family named Alvin, in Maridin, from the Turkish officer who stole him. The officer's supple-cation could not endure the sight of it,
the Alvin family told the boy, and he was taken home using the name of a Turkish soldier. The Alvin family was killed. The boy wandered, known always by the Turkish word for "star boy," although the Alvin family gave him the name of "George." He did not know his real name of Louis."

IRELAND REBELS TRAPPED IN CAVE ATOP HIGH CLIFF

Mountain Retreat Mined and Raked by Machine Gun Fire of Fre Staters.

LONDON, April 18 (By the Associated Press).—Hidden in a cave 100 feet from the top of a cliff rising perpendicularly from the coast line near the town of Killybeggs, Kerry, a desperate band of Irish republicans has been holding out against the Free State troops since Monday in one of the most spectacular fights of the government's struggle with the irregulars, according to a despatch to the Evening Star from Dublin today.

Although the republicans do not seem to have a chance to escape, they are able as yet to guard effectively the precipitous approach to the cave, a narrow path from the top of the cliff, down which not even the venturesome Kerry Gow has the temerity to descend. It seems improbable, therefore, that the irregulars will be routed out so long as their food and water lasts.

A yawning chasm beneath the mouth of the cave awaits the intruder who makes a false step in descending the path.

The body of one Free State soldier has been buffeted by the waves at the bottom of a chasm since the government's first attempt to dislodge the irregulars on Monday.

By DANIEL O'CONNELL,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

DUBLIN, April 18.—The capture of Dan Breen and other irregular leaders left only women in the fighting line today as the chief lieutenants of Maonon de Valera, Free State military officers said they were still searching for De Valera in the region of the Glen of Aherlow, where Breen was taken.

Capture of Breen and his republican colleagues was followed by a most spectacular battle on the Kerry coast. Guerrilla chiefs had established headquarters in a cave on the precipitous cliffs overlooking the Atlantic ocean. A narrow winding path led to the mouth of the cave, which was covered with shrubbery.

ATTEMPTS TO MINE CAVE PROVE FUTILE.

Through capture of documents,
Free State troops learned of the existence of the retreat. A small detachment of soldiers was sent to take it, but the irregulars opened fire, killing a private and wounding a lieutenant.

The Free Staters drew back to the top of the cliff. They lowered mines with ropes, attempting to swing them into the mouth of the cave. The bombs exploded, tearing up masses of rock, but the Free Staters could not tell whether or not any damage had been done to the interior.

Additional Free State troops were brought up, and while rifle fire was kept up against the entrance of the cave, the troops moved down the cliff by ropes.

Positions alongside the cavern machine guns were lowered and placed in position.

MACHINE GUN VOLLEYS FOURD INTO REBELS.

Volleys after volleys were fired into the cave, while the irregulars, hiding behind rocks at the entrance, returned the fire.

Mystery, amounting almost to superstition, is growing up around De Valera. Two reliable witnesses claim he was in Dublin Sunday.

There was another report that he was wounded at the same time
Liam Lynch was shot and captured.
Still another rumor had him wounded in Waterford and his body left lying in a bed. All of these rumors were discounted.

The real truth seems to be that the Free State authorities believe the time is not yet ripe for De Valera's capture.

Michael Tierney, an irregular leader, was killed during a raid by Free State troops in Donegal today.

Anarchists Curbed For King's Visit

ROME, April 18.—Suspecting that the visit of King George and Queen Mary of England to Italy in May will be seized by Anarchists as a time to stage a demonstration, the government is already using repressive methods. Several have been arrested, others have been told to leave the country, while many are under constant surveillance.

many of whom were former school mates and acquaintances, and considerable pleasure was derived in the renewal of former acquaintanceship.

Klondike, who died in London, was Among those present at the services was Frederick C. Wade, agent-general for British Columbia in Great Britain. The dowager empress of Russia sent a tribute in the form of a wreath.

FRENCH ACTRESS MARRIES.

world, who came here from Paris three months ago, yesterday was

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

And the Witter Water Treatment

"My wife was suffering from high blood pressure, although she did not know it at the time and as a result of this pressure a small bleed occurred in her brain causing her to lose the sight of this eye. Our doctor sent her to the hospital for a week, and after she came home he cured and offered me to get her a case of Witter Water."

"In reply to my question as to what he knew about Witter Water the doctor told me that six of his patients had taken Witter Water for blood pressure on their own responsibility and that in every case the patient had been cured. He had therefore, come to the conclusion that Witter Water was the best means of curing the blood pressure and the reduction of blood pressure."

See Promise of Service
Down Peninsula.

SAN JOSE, April 18.—Electric interurban car service between San Jose and San Francisco, long a dream of local commuters, may become a reality if plans of the Market Street Railway of San Francisco to extend their lines from San Mateo to Redwood City and Palo Alto are carried out. It is said that the plan to continue the Market Street company's lines to Palo Alto, which is but 18 miles from this city, is based on the convictions of the officials of the company that the city of San Francisco will not purchase the system under a charter amendment voted in the metropolitan recently.

Kehrlein stated today that he had booked the best available pictures for his theater and had made every effort to procure the best musicians possible.

Lewis, with his orchestra, will be welcomed back to this city by members of the Press Club of Oakland at an informal dinner and reception which will be given in the organization's rooms in the Press Club Building at 11:30 p. m. Saturday.

The affair will be for members of the club only and indications, according to officials, are that practically the entire membership will attend. The orchestra leader has mapped out a special program, which will be presented by his musicians at the affair. Lewis was in Oakland some time ago, but left the city temporarily.

The new luncheon service, inaugurated at the Press Club this week, is proving popular with members, and each day scores of newspapermen and associate members lunch and dine at the club rooms. Meals are served from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. each day to members only.

How I Regained Strength to do My Work

MRS. C. M. MARUKO
38 CUMMINGS ST., ROCHESTER, N. Y.

GIRLS work in mills, offices, factories, stores and kitchens all over this land, often far beyond their strength.

Frequently such a girl is the only bread winner of the family, and the most tired one, with aching back, aches, she suffers with pain, has headaches, dizzy spells, is all dragged out and utterly unfit for work.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound builds health and strength for such women, as is evidenced by the many grateful letters which are received, attesting to the value of this old fashioned root and herb medicine.

How This Young Woman Got Relief

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—"I found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to be a great relief. I was so tired and weak and I had to stay away from work a great deal. It made me weak and nervous too. I learned about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound from one of your booklets and read about how it had helped so many. It has done so much for me I now recommend it to others. I am able to work in the factory now and can walk back and forth to work and enjoy it. I am very glad to have you use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. C. M. MARUKO, 38 Cummings St., Rochester, N. Y.

The Experience of a Stenographer

BUFFALO, N. Y.—"I had a sort of mental and physical breakdown which compelled me to stay at home from work for some time. I am a stenographer and would break down in the office and go right into hysterics. A neighbor of mine had been nervous and run-down and had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with great benefit and recommended it to me. After taking several bottles I noticed such an improvement that I was the happiest girl in the world and I now feel fine. I surely am recommending the Vegetable Compound and always will when I have the opportunity to do so."—ELLA WILMA WUERTZ, 108 Wendt St., Buffalo, N. Y.

THE PRESIDENT'S TRIP.

It is to be hoped that President Harding will not allow the intrusion of political gossip to deter him from his plans for a visit to the Pacific Coast cities. There is every reason why the chief executive should visit the west and Alaska if he would be cognizant of the needs and desires of all parts of the country. The only voices raised against the proposed trip are those of partisan politicians who are fearful lest the journey increase the personal popularity of the President.

President Harding is anxious to meet the people of the west. Had he been able to leave Washington he would have paid the visit a year ago. There is no disputing the evidence to be found in his public utterance that such a trip has been contemplated for many months.

President Harding's term has two years more to run; he is but half through his task. Surely there is nothing indicating a political motive in a journey made at this time. He desires to pay the west a visit as President of the United States and not as Republican candidate, or Republican politician and there is a chance he will give up his plans because of ill-considered talk by the ones who are guilty of projecting politics into the situation.

The administration has made a definite proposal concerning the participation of the United States in an international court of justice. This is a question which everyone will agree, must have popular support to carry. There is only one way for President Harding to ascertain the sentiment of the country and only one way for him to place the issue before the people. Alaska has long wished the President to make a personal investigation of affairs which are in dispute. It is argued by some there that the local government's hands are tied and that the system of control by a bureau far removed from the Territory has been responsible for conditions which work against prosperity. In addition, the Government is opening a railroad and a new river route.

For the good of Alaska, in informing the President first hand of conditions, and in attracting a national attention there during the days of the executive's visit, it is to be hoped that President Harding will pay no attention to those critics who are not acting in good faith.

UNCLE SAM'S VOTERS.

On the day after a primary election when darkened skies and a familiar apathy kept many voters from the polls later day by day in calling attention to a new attempt to arouse wider interest in the privileges and duties of the ballot.

Acting on the knowledge that it was the old-fashioned New England Town Meeting which made for the stability of early American government, Uncle Sam's Voters as the new organization calls itself, with try to bring the town meeting idea back into favor. The organization is devoted to the "development of enlightened and active voting at all elections" and disclaims any partisan affiliations.

According to a statement given out by Samuel Adams, director general of Uncle Sam's Voters, the league is designed to aid in the solution of local, state, national and international problems by bringing the collective intelligence of the country to bear upon them. Every citizen, old and young and without distinction of sex or race, is not only eligible but sought. The fundamental step in the ambitious program will be the establishment of local assemblies based on the idea of the town meeting.

One may question the ability of Uncle Sam's Voters to stir up the American voter to a sense of his obligations, but few will deny that there is a field for cultivation. California knows that there is a sound argument in the town meeting and that many constructive problems have been solved by the town meeting of the communities in this state have worked out the plan in all the perfection of the New England meetings of early days and in those communities it is noteworthy there is an almost general expression of opinion and choice at the polls.

THE ELECTION.

That which was predicted came to pass when the primary election of yesterday proved, in importance, to overshadow the regular election, which is to come next month. The 45,000 voters, who set a new record for municipal primaries in Oakland and yet did not number one-half the registered vote, elected a mayor, a commissioner and a member of the Board of Education. In the election that is to come, a commissioner and three members of the school board will be chosen from those who qualified yesterday.

The victory of Mayor John L. Davis is decisive and bears out the predictions which his friends made during the campaign. It means, if the present figures are borne out in the official count, that the mayoralty contest is not to be carried into the May election and that the center of interest there will be in the races for places as school directors and for Commissioner Number One. In this last named race W. J. Moorehead has qualified to oppose W. H. Edwards, the incumbent.

In a field of seven candidates for Commissioner Number Two William J. Bacus polled 23,119 votes and is elected. His vote is the second-highest received by any candidate and is surpassed only by that given Fred Campbell for School Director in a two-man race. Considering the number of candidates in this race and in the mayoralty one the totals of Mayor Davis and Commissioner Bacus are the more remarkable.

By more than two to one the voters approved the deserved salary advances for firemen and police.

The primaries have narrowed the field and shortened the ballot and have demonstrated once more that it is a mistaken policy to consider them not of an importance equal that of the regular election. For all of the impressive strength shown by David Oliphant they have proved that Mayor Davis' following and support remain intact.

MONEY STYLE TO CHANGE.

There is going to be a change in the style of paper money in the United States, a change which will mean less of variety and more of security and one, it is hinted, which will make an official and governmental concession to an established American superstition. The two dollar bill is to go.

For some time a special committee of treasury officials has been at work on a general revision of the designs of bills now in circulation. According to the word which has been given out ahead of the formal report, it is the intention to make all bills of the same denomination look alike whether they are treasury notes, federal reserve notes or silver certificates. It is also the plan to cease making two dollar bills.

The hint that superstition has something to do with the decision regarding the two dollar bill has been received with incredulity. There is no record of anyone ever having stepped over or around a two dollar bill lying on the sidewalk. Burglars, who might have more reasons than honest citizens for fearing a turn at bad luck, are not in the habit of discarding the two dollar bills when they count their hands. The average man may be a bit quick in passing the two dollar note along but he gets his value for it and makes it, perhaps, the most rapid circulating piece of currency in the lot.

There is one genuine argument against this bill and that is the temptation it has offered to bill-raisers. It is claimed that making twenties out of twos is the easiest task of this particular group of criminals. With the ones all alike and of a new design and the two dollar bills abandoned, it is believed the bill-raisers will have been dealt a discouraging blow.

HOSPITALITY AND ATHLETICS.

The old-fashioned idea of hospitality in connection with athletic contests between educational institutions might well be revived to the credit of the University of California.

In the fact that the University of Washington crew has been in Oakland for a week and has not been welcomed, entertained, or shown about the Eastbay by anyone connected officially with the University or its athletic department there may be found a commentary upon the tendency of modern university athletics toward the business routine in the professional field.

The University of Washington crew was entertained by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce when discovery was made that no reception committee was on hand from the rival institution. It is realized that scholastic duties are pressing at this time of the year and that no time can be given from classes. Also, it is true that in most of the universities the same careless attitude toward opponents is being expressed.

In the face of this it would seem that the opportunity before the athletic department at Berkeley toward hospitality, friendship and sportsmanship is so much the greater.

Considering all of the heated argument one may wonder what satisfaction Mr. Einstein has in his idea.

LENROOT AID PLEGGED FOR POSTOFFICE

Wisconsin Senator in Address at Chamber of Commerce Luncheon Gives Promise to Assist Oakland Building

United States Senator Irvine L. Lenroot of Wisconsin has pledged to the people of Oakland his support toward the erection of a new Federal building in this city.

"I have been an annual visitor to this city for the past eight years, and I am well informed of your needs here," said Senator Lenroot in an address at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon yesterday, "and I want to pledge myself before you people here today that I will do all in my power to see that Oakland gets a new postoffice."

OPPOSES BLOCS.

Senator Lenroot took a very definite stand against the farm bloc and other groups of like character which are attempting to sway legislation.

"The government, as such, should never confer special privileges on any individual or any group," said Lenroot. "A special privilege to any class or group is just as bad as a special privilege to any individual or corporation. I am not a member of any bloc, nor shall I ever be."

"The idea of blocs is not a new one. When I first went to Congress more than fifteen years ago, while not so noticeable as now, the blocs were in existence. We had a farm bloc that was always on hand when tariff legislation was before Congress. There was a New England group and a Southern group. As far as I know there was never a Western group, and that is a credit to the people of the West."

"The bloc is not as dangerous as many would have you believe or as valuable to the organization which it represents as the members would indicate. It nevertheless is a menace."

"When a group of public men bind themselves together to promote any single idea they are apt to think only of the ends of that group and by 'log rolling' and other means to do the nation an injury in order to secure success for the idea which they favor. What we need is a national viewpoint."

NOT ISOLATIONIST.

Lenroot declared that he was not an isolationist; that he did not believe in wrapping the flag around ourselves and leaving the rest of the world entirely alone.

"We have a responsibility to the rest of the world, but we will never vote to surrender one iota of our independence to any foreign country. I believe the present relationship between France and Germany was necessary before stability could come, but I now believe the situation has arisen which will permit America to offer its own good offices for the benefit of the world at large."

Lenroot also made a plea for Americanization and for obedience to law. He praised California as the most representative state in the Union, and the one which more nearly represents the thought of the whole people due to the fact that the residents of this state have come from nearly every other state in the Union.

6 INDICTED BUDGET RISE IN SHIPYARD APPROVED BY 'FAKE' SALESALMS BOARD

Other Indictments Involving More Than $1,000,000 in Fraudulent Transactions at Liberty Yard Are Expected

Three government employees and three junk dealers are under secret federal indictment today in connection with alleged frauds against the government aggregating $1,000,000, through "fake" sales of materials at the Liberty shipyard of the Emergency Fleet Corporation at Alameda. Other indictments are expected to follow, involving nearly $1,000,000.

Although it has been learned on good authority that the six indictments have been voted by the federal grand jury, they have not yet been returned in open court, this will be done, it is expected, within a few days.

PRIVATE SALES WERE THE MEDIUM.

The alleged frauds were perpetrated, it is charged, by arranging private sales instead of disposing of the materials through competitive bids.

In these private transactions materials were purchased by those on the "inside" at prices far below those obtaining in the open market, and then resold at enormous profits. One of the men indicted, it is charged, bought several thousand feet of lumber at $4.50 a thousand, and without moving it from the place where it lay, resold it at $10 a thousand.

The same man is said to have bought hobnail metal at 2 1/2 cents a pound, at a time when the market price for this material was 4 1/2 cents a pound.

NO MONEY USED IN TRANSACTIONS.

In most of the instances the money for the materials purchased from the government was not paid until the materials had been resold, so that the alleged conspirators made their large profits without assuming any financial risk.

The exact amounts involved in the alleged frauds will not be known until the materials sold and their market prices have been completely checked up. It is declared, however, that the amount lies between $12,000 and $200,000. The material in the yard at the time the sales commenced was worth approximately $1,000,000, it is charged, all of which, it is charged, was made the object of the alleged conspiracy.

Appreciation of the amendment to Governor Richardson's original administration budget, that will restore, along with three other departments, the State Board of Charities and Corrections, which would have been done away with for lack of funds if the original budget had stood, was expressed today by R. H. Pendleton, member of the board.

The budget was to come back on the floor of the state assembly at Sacramento late today. Incorporated with four acts of amendments for discussion.

"We have no statement," declared Pendleton today, "other than that we greatly appreciate the amendment, which makes it possible for this department to continue functioning, instead of going out of existence as the original budget would have necessitated. Although the appropriation as provided for in the amendment is a 48 per cent cut from last year, the department will be able to manage."

The amendment allows for salaries of the officers and employees of the board, $22,250, and for its support, $15,850.

The other detailed proposals are: For salaries of the State Building and Loan Commission, its deputies and employees, $20,600; for the support of the same commission, $7,100.

For the salaries of the employees of the Commission on Immigration and Housing, $32,280; for its support, $11,518.

For salaries of the state mineralogist and his deputies and employees, $20,700; for support of the mining bureau, $23,100.

The total increases thus provided reach $275,330, and brings the grand total of increases over the original budget to about $750,000. The Governor set out one group of increases in a message transmitted to the Assembly about two weeks ago.

According to estimates, there are 2,000,000 spinners and hatters in Japan between the ages of 20 and 60.

ARTISTS TO PICK LIGHTS

After taking steps to make a legal transfer of the boat house and canoe house to the playground department, in order to allow the renting of lunch and ice-cream concessions, the board of park directors yesterday evening decided to appoint a committee of lighting, architectural, landscape and art experts to pass upon all plans for lighting systems in and about Lake Merritt.

At present there is a committee of city officials headed by Commissioner Bovey, arranging for the "necklace of light" of 200 ornamental poles around Lake Merritt; but this committee is mainly concerned with business arrangements and the collection of funds.

The park board, however, decided yesterday to appoint a committee which will decide the artistic phases of the project, and Secretary Henry Vogt was asked to communicate with many famous artists and architects, to get their cooperation.

Among those mentioned for the committee are John Olsen Howard, Bernard Maybeck, Fred Meyers, Rommie Meyers, Carl Hardy, Eugene Neuhaus, John McLaren, William Polk, William Carey Ryan, John Bakewell and John Gregg.

'Atta Boy,' Shouts Gompers as Russ Reds Are Scored

NEW YORK, April 18.—(By Associated Press.)—Samuel Gompers fervently exclaimed "atta boy!" when, presiding at the annual convention of the National Civic Federation today, he heard Thomas B. Doyle, of Baton Rouge, La., erstwhile member of the Communist Kuzbas colony in Siberia, denounce all radicals.

Doyle, his wife and two young sons, recently returned from the Russian colony founded by William ("Big Bill") Hayward, and were complainants in the indictments for grand larceny returned yesterday against P. Pascal Cosgrave, chairman of Kuzbas, Roger Baldwin, director of the American civil liberties union, and seven others.

The delegates cheered as Gompers led Doyle to the platform and commanded him to tell his story.

Doyle had a home at Baton Rouge, and a good job, when he was induced by agents of Kuzbas to invest in the Russian industrial commonwealth, he said.

President Sanborn of the park board, "we should have at Lake Merritt one of the most artistic lighting systems in America."

The actual committee will be finally determined next week.

CRACKSMEN ROB SCHOOL

PIEDMONT, April 18.—Burglars, believed by the police to be amateurs, who some time early this morning broke into the Piedmont high school, rifled the building after doing considerable damage and escaped with more than $200 in cash. The robbery was discovered by the janitor as he made his rounds of the building before school opened.

The safe in the office of Principal H. W. Jones was broken open and the cash taken. Two cameras also were stolen and locks were forced. The burglars forced the safe by knocking off the combination knob with an electric iron taken from the domestic science department. Damage to the building was estimated at about $200.

Open windows, discovered this morning in practically every room of the school building, showed that the robbers' search for valuables was thorough and that they had provided themselves with ample means of escape should their presence in the school be discovered.

They entered by jimmieing a window in the gymnasium on the ground floor. Police detectives today made a thorough search of the building for clues and photographed fingerprints on desks and doors.

JUBILEE'S PARDNER

by Judd Mortimer

When school let out we all went up to Red's barn, whose mother keeps chickens, and hid and watched out for a hen to come in and lay an egg, but none of them came in.

Mud turtles lay eggs. So do snakes and frogs and alligators. I would like to get a setting of mud turtles eggs only I don't suppose a hen would set on a turtle's eggs. It must look funny to see a turtle with its head set on some eggs. I would not think it would do them any more good than it would to lay a brick on them and go away and leave it.

If I could find a turtle egg sometimes I would put it under a hen and maybe when it hatched out I would have the only turtle in the world that had feathers. Or if I could get a turtle to set on a hen egg I might get a chicken in a shell. Then if we wanted to eat it we would have to crack it like a nut with a hammer or something.

"He hated to let go of her hand."

ONE OF CUPID'S SEQUELS.

THE war may be over, but documentary projectiles from long-range diplomats are still flying, and there are other reactions. New romances develop with the war as a background, and it is too early to close the book to Cupid in that relation.

Thomas Benham, perhaps the homeliest young man in Wichita county, Texas, was an early victim in the A. B. C. fight against a wildcat, and landed in a hospital early in the game.

Miss Deering, the pretty nurse who ministered to Benham, had another patient—a handsome chap named Chalmers, who had the eyes of a poet, deep, dark and fascinating. The regulation clapping of Chalmers' black hair did not dissipate the notion that it must be wonderful if given its way. His voice was low and musical, and grace controlled even his restricted movements as a patient.

Nature may not deliberately design a man to break the hearts of women, but if Nature does, Chalmers was born to cause endless sentimental disturbance in the sex.

Benham, awkward, red-haired, florid and different, was different. His manner was abrupt and discourteous. He knew the difference between a nurse and a nurse, and was not to be trifled with.

When Benham left the hospital he found Chalmers waiting for him, and who was as awed at her beauty, and who was as awed at her beauty, and who was as awed at her beauty.

Returning to Texas, Benham, who wore models that looked to his beauty as a solid of his beauty, and who was as awed at her beauty, and who was as awed at her beauty.

Quick fortunes involved the Benham family, and Benham's family were soon numbered among the rich. Benham's experience in Texas had made him a millionaire, although it had not affected his industry. But with money he had a wish to see something of life outside, and New York was his first ambition.

In the great city, after tallors and barbers had done their work, his face was not comely, but it was honest, and he was ardent.

Benham one day entered a French publication that was so popular with the boys who went abroad. At the Foreign periodical counter he found Miss Deering, moved by a like curiosity.

"Why, Mr. Benham?" She put out her hand and scanned him. "How well you look!"

"Thank you, Miss Deering— if you are still Miss Deering."

"Of course I am! What are you doing in New York?"

"Just enjoying myself. Sort of vacation. Never been here, and wanted to see if the town is as big as they say."

"Do you live in Texas still?"

"When I'm home. But I may get stuck on New York." He was encouraged by the welcome in her eyes. His natural diffidence left him long enough to add: "Stopping at the Hotel Pennsylvania. I wonder if you wouldn't just have supper with me there tonight?"

She hesitated a moment. "For old time's sake perhaps I ought to," she said.

"I'll be waiting for you at the ladies' entrance at six o'clock."

"Very well, I'll come. And she took his hand again as she left him.

The Adventures of Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy

by Johnny Gruelle

Copyright by JOHNNY GRUELLE. All Rights Reserved.

It surely surprised Betsy Bonnet String when a queer little old woman hopped out of the trees and took Betsy's magic apron right away from her. It surprised the Too ack quee and the Raggedy too, but before they could do anything, the queer little old woman had hopped back into the tree and had closed behind her.

"Of all the mean things to do," the Too ack quee cried, "did she tear the magic apron, Betsy Bonnet String?"

"Not," Betsy Bonnet String replied. "When the queer little old woman snatched it away from me, the string came untied."

"The Too ack quee picked up a stick and poked all around the tree to see if he could find the door through which the queer little old woman had gone, but there wasn't even a weeny teeny crack."

But up a ways from the ground, Raggedy Andy saw a knot hole in the tree.

"I'll bet a nickel that the queer little old woman was watching us out of that hole in the tree!" Raggedy Andy said.

"And she saw Betsy Bonnet String shake the golden pancakes, nice fluffy ones and the maple syrup from her magic apron. And that's where the queer little old woman hopped out of the tree and took the magic apron!"

"But I would give her all the pancakes she would care to have if she had only asked for them!" Betsy Bonnet String said.

"If you will bestow me a little bit, I believe I can climb up to the knot hole!" Raggedy Andy said.

"Indeed it was!" the Too ack quee agreed. "We must try and get the magic apron away from the queer little old woman!"

THE QUEER LITTLE OLD WOMAN POKED A STICK OUT THROUGH THE KNOTHOLE.

before he could say another word, the queer little old woman poked a stick through the knot hole and the queer little old woman over heels down to the ground.

"There!" the queer little old woman laughed out of the knot hole. "That will teach you not to peep in my window again!"

"I didn't get hurt, even one speck!" Raggedy Andy laughed up to her. "For I am stuffed with nice white, soft cotton and I can fall all the way from the sky, even and it wouldn't hurt me!"

"I guess we will have to go home without the magic apron!" Betsy Bonnet String said.

"And, as the Too ack quee and the Raggedy could think of no way of getting the magic apron away from the queer little old woman, they followed Betsy Bonnet String and rode towards the Too ack quee's house on their magic bicycles. And all felt very, very sad.

WHY ALLEN DRAKE CHANGED ONE OF LILLIAN'S PLANS.

Allen Drake crossed the room to the door, shutting herself and Katie outside.

"Which are the lights to be kept burning all night?" he asked. "I'll see to them, if you don't mind, and put out all the others."

"One in the bathroom, one in the upper hall, one outside Mother Graham's room, and the third in the lower front hall."

"You evidently believe in the advice the reformed hold-up men are handing out concerning the safety in lighted houses," he commented with a smile, while his imagination danced a capricious one.

"I kept my house lighted long before I ever read any advice upon the subject," I retorted a bit stiffly.

"Showing that you are an unusually sensible lady, and as I have already contended, he rejoined, and I was surprised to hear sincerity in his tones. "There is no other insurance so sure. Tonight it will work in another direction. A man like Smith does not fall into the category of ordinary housebreakers. He will want to be assured that everything in the house is following its usual routine. Any deviation from it would arouse his suspicion. So I'll get those lights straightened out at once. In the meantime—"

designed for the trying space between the library and its alcove.

ALLEN DRAKE'S SUGGESTION. "Come here, please," he said suddenly, and I crossed the room to the alcove, secretly resenting the peremptoriness of his tone.

"Stand just the way Mrs. Underwood has planned," he said, "with your hand upon this door."

I took the position Lillian had studied my attitude, then spoke to my father, who, with his hands behind him, was watching us from in front of the fireplace in which, however, there was no fire, as Lillian had wished no light in the room which we hoped was to prove a trap for the burglar.

"I wish you'd look at this over, Chief," I said, all the deference he has for my father sounding in my voice.

When my father had crossed to us Mr. Drake parted the heavy draperies and walked to the desk where Lillian had placed the glass case which Smith had left behind him.

"I'd like to make this stunt fool-proof if I can, he continued. "It's always well, I think, to expect the unexpected. Now, Mrs. Graham, please imagine that I am Smith. I am opening this desk drawer under Katie's direction, when suddenly something—no matter what—alarms me, and I—"

"WE CANNOT RISK IT." Never have I seen so quick a movement as that which Allen made as he stopped speaking. He covered almost the distance to the alcove with a single bound, and a second rush would have carried him to my side had I not anticipated his action. I had watched him narrowly, however, and as he stepped I turned the knob of the door beside me, slipped through to the other side and peered at him through the crack in the door which I held ajar.

"You see, Mrs. Graham, did that father," Mrs. Graham did that, and as he stepped I turned the knob of the door beside me, slipped through to the other side and peered at him through the crack in the door which I held ajar.

THE FIRST TRIP "ROUND THE WORLD"

Part VI—The "Islands of Robbers"

If storms had swept the Pacific, they here fairly pleasant to meet, but they had one great fault—they were either wrecked or starved to death. The greatest voyage in history would have been a failure.

A light between the two ships was shown in the picture at the end of the voyage, and the ship was safe.

story would have been spoiled. As it was, the weather was splendid. Both winds and ocean were kind to the bold men from Europe.

Seeing how calm the ocean was, Magellan gave it the name of "Pacific," which means peaceful.

It was all very well to be blown in a steady course, over a peaceful ocean—but when would it end? When would land and food be found? Hunger gripped the men, and they found it hard to do their daily work.

Three months passed, from the time of leaving South America. There was still no welcome land. Another week or so, and still another. Hunger gnawed worse than ever. Three days more, four, five—and then to the sixth!

Landed on a small, low island. Soon the ships were anchored in the midst of three islands.

The sailors quickly noticed one of the islands and took fish, coconuts and bananas.

A ship, many things were sure to be missing afterwards.

In one case, the sailors were made very angry when one of the small life-boats was stolen. This event led to a battle in which cannon were fired and the life-boat was required.

Magellan called the people "Ladrones," which means "robbers."

ABOUT THE HOUSE. Liquid ammonia will remove dirt from wood.

A point brush is useful for dusting floor furniture.

Cool the duck in a quick oven and bake frequently.

If pies are baked too quickly they will become soggy.

Soft green is a desirable tint for curtains in the nursery.

Crisp up the cereal in the double boiler or on a pan instead of the stove. It is a much quicker process and saves gas.

The Voice of a Husband

An Eastern college professor, on his first visit to Yellowstone Park, attempted to study at close range the grizzly bears that came down the garbage heaps back of the Fountain Hotel for their provender. An irritable she-bear, with a cub in tow, resented his scientific curiosity. She hauled off and slapped him about fifteen feet and was preparing to claw him when Mrs. Professor came running up, armed with an umbrella, and by opening and closing it repeatedly, so frightened the lady-bear that she departed without doing any serious injury to the startled investigator.

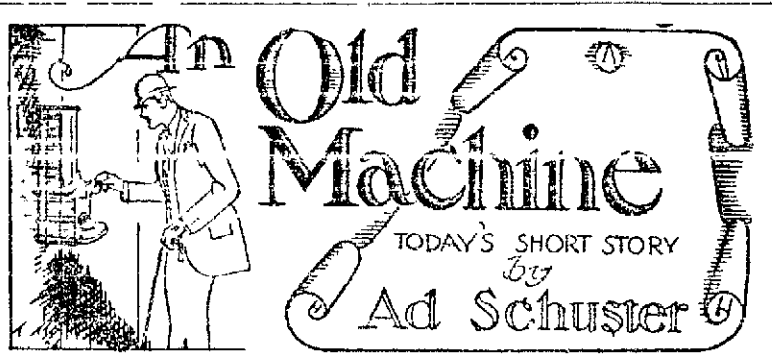

On the following day, two of the cowboys who, in the season, served as park guides were discussing the affair. Said the first one:

"I claim that was a powerful brave woman, takin' her own life in her hands to save that fool husband of hers."

"I wouldn't be so sure about it," said his friend. "Anybody would do that."

"Like hell they would! Spose'n some bear had your wife down and was fixin' to claw her to death—what would you do?"

"Me? I'd give three loud ringin' cheers!"

DAN CARNLEY had been walking aimlessly about the Last Side. It was his custom to start out without object and, when he was tired, to take a car back home. The time had arrived. He stood on a corner leaning against a small building, half store and half house. It was a room on a box, a slot machine, and only he gave it an inspection.

But that same environment does not rest you. Every piece of equipment, every angle of your program is associated in your mind with Work and Worry. You do not see the outward gloss and harmony. There is no romance for you. You may be proud of your work and prefer it to all others, but it nevertheless drains your strength and you must go elsewhere for diversion and relaxation.

So, when you reach home your reaction to the domestic atmosphere is similar to your visitor's reaction to the atmosphere to your office. You, in your turn, admire the fine equipment, the manifold devices for saving labor, the apparent ease with which the work is done, and you wonder why anyone should ever grow tired or bored in the midst of such harmony.

But when night comes, your wife, if she does her own work, feels exactly as you felt in your office at the end of a busy day. Would it rest you to spend every evening in your office, with the chairs worn and the company agreeable? It would not. The place is too full of toil associations. It's a work shop, and you can't forget it. Neither can your wife shake off the toil associations which linger about the home she loves and lives in. If she is to come fresh to her work in the morning she, too, must seek a change of environment. That's why she wants to go out in the evening, my friend. Not so very illogical, is it?

How is this for a practical plan of teaching CITIZENSHIP? It's from Jack Rabbit Gulch, and believe me, IDEAS come out of said gulch.

"Jerry O:

"I've writ you about the bringin' up of kids under the general headin' of 'breakin' in an' this here's a sort of a kind of what I would call a sequel to it. I'm callin' it 'Americanin' Americans. An' like the breakin' in process—it begins with kids. In the first place, the people has got to come to an agreement as to proper definition of 'Americanization.' Since they has used that word and put it into workin' use they's only been a few who really could ride it without gettin' bucked off. The rest of us has only been lookers on and hearers. But now that there's an animal can be tamed to the back and call of the masses if we just get in an time it for 'em.

"Now we got the English-Americans, German-Americans, Italian-Americans, Latgonians-Americans, half-Americans, and some that are not Americans. The real American Americans is apt to be a mighty few. They don't know of 'em how except what's on the reservations, but that's said merely for talk.

"Now what we want to do with the mixed breeds that forms our population is to make one perfect or at least an improved breed out of 'em. Just like we take certain strains of horse blood and under careful culture cross them till we get all their good qualities united. In good horse lingo what I'm tryin' to get at is called good teamin'.

"Anyway an' however, it ain't so much in harnessin' fur blood to new blood vessels as qualifyin' furrin ideas and minds for the proper support of our institutions and constitution.

"And says I, that begins with kids and says I, forther, begins with Americans, this Americanin'.

"But how are we goin' to do it and trust to the individual homes to carry on the work, especially when financial and social standing governs the teaching? It ain't bein' done, says I. They's only one way as I can see to do it and says I again, we ought to be up an' doin' it.

"There's a lot of good sense in the humanity with which we treat our horses or our gasoline critters what we only keeps in good condition to break the heart or mind of in a final contest of some kind.

"Now here's what ought to be done. We ought to take the money we are savin' in buildin' fightin' tools and establish in addition to our schools a system of child-furnishin'.

"Let it be compulsory for every child born in the jurisdiction, or whatever they call the premises of these United States to attend two, three, or four weeks, or whatever time is needed out of every year as a sort of a vacation to the state what kind of treatment or teachin' they're gettin' at home, what their natural tendencies are, in fact everythin' pertainin' to the development of that child. If he has any physical defects what can be corrected and the parents are in a position to have it done, see that it is done. In poor cases let the state do it.

"I ain't favorin' the states takin' their kids away from their homes. If home conditions are anywhere near passable, but if they ain't I sure do. No family has any right or reason to shove on to the community physical wrecks and pizen-minded gangsters if it can be avoided.

"There are certain principals of right livin' and social decency that are just as exact as the science of arithmetic. You get the same results no matter who works it. These should be agreed on and adopted by a board of capable mothers and dads appointed by the government to supervise the Americanization process. There's no room for the religious or poor, the religions or creeds, but give all classes of kids a chance to mix and get the same trainin' as the rich. Let 'em have the same time they do, as that when they're all growed up they'll feel the responsibility on themselves to get

Common People

One often hears—
Queer questions asked—
From those whose minds are immature—
Just bright inquiring children—
Which seem at best but simple thoughts—
And prove quite hard to answer—
But so it was the other night—
While my small boy was keenly perusing—
A story from the printed page—
With finger tracing every line—
And tongue extended—
He turned to me with puzzled eyes—
And said—"Now, Daddie, won't you tell—
What is the meaning of these words—
Common people?"

I smiled indulgently—then quick—
The question struck me as unusual—
And had me groping for the words—
That would convey the meaning—
It came to me to look it up—
And so I did—
Then quickly saw the meaning plain—
It meant plain folks without a rank—
Just people not unusual—
Then further on I read this line—
"Of no particular value"—
And was about to tell to him—
Just what the book told to me—
When suddenly there came the thought—
That what I read had been untrue—
For, lo, the salt of all the earth—
Are common people—
And so I sat beside him still—
And took his hand within my own—
And said—"Now listen—sonny—
Throughout the world where't you go—
You'll find brave folks forever toiling—
To feather down a nest for those—
They carry closely to the heart—
And you will find their willing mates—
Who spend their days in breastin' children—
Just as your mother has—my boy—
So tenderly—
And when dark dawns warn our land—
With life and liberty in peril—
The first to answer every call—
Are common people—
And in this wonder land of ours—
From out the rank's of modest men—
Spring those who battle for the right—
And die with glory—
So then I say to you—my boy—
The common folks have made this world—
The wonderland that you now find it—
And every man who wore a crown—
Each one who's gained a world's renown—
And those who lived mankind to sway—
Who walked in pomp his short-lived day—
Could ne'er have triumphed a single hour—
Nor could he hold one jot of power—
Without the—Common People."

Dorothy Dix
Parents Who Lacked Early Advantages
May Learn Much From Their Children,
If They Will Humble Their Parental Vanity

PERHAPS the bitterest moment in the life of the average man and woman is when their little son or daughter corrects their pronunciation or criticizes their manner.

Up to that time, the parents have been as gods to their children, all powerful and all wise, the fountain of all knowledge. Their opinion settled every question; their judgment was not to be questioned by the admiring, wondering little audience of the nursery.

AND father and mother, basking in this adulation, fondly believed that it would last forever, that, however poor a figure they might cut in a callous and unresponsive world, to their own children they would at least be regarded as shining examples; and that their sons and daughters would aspire to nothing better than following humbly in their footsteps.

THUS suddenly came the rude awakening. Parental vanity got a job that shook it from center to circumference, and father and mother discovered that instead of blind worshippers they had hatched out a brood of little critics of their own.

It is not unusual for parents to see, in the part of their children, it is natural when Johnny corrects father and tells him where he gets off for "Choo-choo-savva," for example, that father should give him a box on the ear and send him scurrying to bed. It is natural that mother should tell Mary that she will send no more of her impertinence and let no child of hers correct her, when Mary remarks upon some blunder mother has made.

BUT, painful as it is to parental egotism to have to abandon the pose of wisdom in the family, when the children begin to have more culture and more polish than the parents, are not the parents getting just what they planned for, and hoped, and paid for?

THERE is no other more heroic thing on earth than the sacrifices that so many people make to give their children the education and the advantages that they never had themselves. To do this, thousands of poor men and women are toiling beyond their strength, doing without the comforts they need, and sweating every penny.

If all of this toil and self-denial is not in vain, these children are bound to come from school and college with not only the knowledge they have gotten from books, but with the refinement who are the flower of generations of culture and elegance.

Between the children, then, who have been given the advantages of education and the parents who have no such advantages, there is bound to be a great gulf, unless the parents are willing to bridge it over by learning from their children. This requires a meekness of spirit that few middle-aged people possess. But surely it is less bitter to learn from your children than to know that they are ashamed of you.

BECAUSE you've pronounced a word incorrectly for forty years is no reason for going on pronouncing it incorrectly for the next twenty or thirty years. Because you've murdered the King's English every day of your life is no reason you should continue to commit the crime after you are given a chance to reform. Because nobody taught you good table manners in your childhood is no excuse for your continuing to be a second swiftness until your dying day.

WE are never too old to learn. Never too old to change. It is only our conceits that hold us down and bar the way to our improvement. Because we didn't have advantages in our youth, we should be all the more eager to improve every advantage that is offered us later on.

It may be galling to parents to learn from their children, but there are no better teachers than Johnny and Mary. They belong to the very front rank in the army of progress. They are the heirs of all the ages. They have the latest new theory. They are the last word. Of course, a lot of their theories are half-baked. Of course, the young don't know nearly as much as they think they do. Of course, a lot of their fo-tol-rol is utter fo-tol-rol, and won't stand the acid test of actual experience. But, all the same, it is the breath of the new day that lies just before us.

SO FATHER makes a mistake when he won't let the boys introduce any new methods into the business, and mother makes a mistake when she won't let the girls teach her any of the newfangled ways of housekeeping that they have learned in the schools. For the world do move, as Brother Jasper says, and our children are sitting at the wheel of the car of progress.

WISE are the parents who learn from their children. And, anyway, there is nothing like keeping up with Johnny and Mary to keep us young!

UNCLE WIGGILY'S CEILING FALLS

"Clatter! Clatter! Bang!"

That was the startling sound Uncle Wiggily heard one morning as he sat in his hollow stump bungalow, getting ready to go adventuring.

"But the noise makes me think perhaps there's an adventure right here at home," whispered the bunnymon. "I say, Nurse Jane, he called, the noise makes me think perhaps there's an adventure right here at home."

"No, Wiggily, I haven't fallen down stairs, but the ceiling has fallen," sighed the muskrat lady housekeeper.

"Very good!" The ceiling fallen!" gasped Uncle Wiggily. "I hope it didn't fall on you, Nurse Jane."

"Well, part of it did," answered the muskrat lady. "I will not keep the ceiling from me!"

Oh, Grandpa Whackum!

exclaimed Uncle Wiggily.

It from you, Uncle Wiggily. Part of the ceiling fell on me!"

"Uncle Wiggily, the ceiling asking questions. Out to the kitchen he skipped and there a sorrowful sight met his eyes. The plaster from the roof, or ceiling, had fallen down all over everything, and some fell on Nurse Jane, who was washing the breakfast dishes.

"But don't look so worried!" laughed the muskrat lady housekeeper. "Only a few little pieces struck me. But what will you do for me?"

"That is a small matter, as long as you are not hurt," kindly replied the bunnymon. "I'll go get Grandpa Whackum, the beaver, and he will soon plaster on new and better ceiling for us. But, oh, such a terrible lot of dirt in your clean kitchen, Janie!"

"Don't worry about that," spoke the muskrat lady cheerfully. "I'll get in Mrs. Wiggibobble, the duck, and Mr. Whistletail, the little pig, and we'll soon clean up this dirt."

"Then I'll go get Grandpa Whackum," offered Uncle Wiggily, and soon he was on his way to the pond where he had lived. Beavers, you know, are the masons and carpenters of Woodland. The beavers build dams of sticks and stones, plastering them tight with mud. They make a dam across a stream, and then, behind the dam, they make a dam pond. In this pond they build their houses, shaped like old fashioned beehives. When the beavers use mud with which to plaster they are like masons. When they use sharp teeth, they cut down big trees to use in their dam, they are carpenters.

"Oh, Grandpa Whackum!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily as soon as he saw the old gentleman. "My ceiling has fallen!"

"Hi! That's too bad! Then we must plaster it up again for you," said Grandpa Whackum. "Wedding down to the pond he whacked and whacked away, like a mason's trowel, on the plastering. This sound is the danger, or attention call, and at once many beavers came running up. Toadie and Noodle and Tail, the beaver boys, were there.

"Friends, we must all go to Uncle Wiggily's bungalow!" said Grandpa Whackum. "And plaster on his fallen ceiling. Come along!"

"What's your name?" asked the newspaperman.

Without answering Dall walked straight up to the old gentleman's yard. He walked behind a shed to take sure that he was not followed, and then went over to the roadster, from which he could see the entrance to the hut, and waited patiently until Eleanor drove out of the alley, upon which he followed her back to Sea View Villa. ## Majors Still Comb Minors For Star Men

Kamm and O'Connell Not Only Ones Uncovered for 1923 Season.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The day of minor league luxuries, such as Willie Kamm and Jimmy O'Connell, may have passed, as John McGraw insists, but it is noted that pitching and hitting leaders of nearly every small time league of importance are getting quite a play in the majors this spring.

BENTLEY A FIND.

There is, for example, $65,000 worth of Jack Bentley, who led the International league pitchers. He is with the Giants and is expected to go over his as a pinch hitter and left-hand pitcher. Another is Glenn Myatt, for whom the Cleveland Indians are said to have paid $50,000 to Milwaukee. Myatt led the American association in hitting and will fill in for Steve O'Neill behind the bat in many games this season. Homer Summa is another league leader with the Indians. He topped the Texas league hitters in 1922 and is now ensconced in right field with the Speaker outfit.

Bob Fothergill, International league batting leader, is up for another trial with the Detroit Tigers and is certain to catch on. He will hardly break through the Veatch-Cobb-Hellmann combination in the regular outfield, but has shown enough to displace Ira Plagstad as first-string substitute.

DODGERS WERE BUSY.

The Brooklyn Dodgers raided the Southern association during the off season and among others came up with Fred Schlieber, champion batsman of the circuit. Schlieber has fallen heir to first base in the Dodger infield, thanks to the fact that Jacques Fournier hasn't seen us to report.

Cooney, left-hand star of the Eastern league pitchers, is making good with the Braves; Hodges, who headed the Western association, seems to be getting by with the Cubs, not to mention Henry and Elliott, pitching leaders of the Southern association and Tarnel league, respectively, who are with the Browns and doing well.

Kamm and O'Connell, two specimens of Frisco line, are the most notable of minor league graduates, because they are alleged to have cost the White Sox and Giants the sum of two hundred thousand important dollars. Neither, however, was the hitting leader of the Coast league. That honor, oddly enough, fell to Strand, a broken-down major leaguer, who will come back just as soon as reinforcers replace truck horses.

Center Will Have Stadium In Next Year

NEW YORK, April 18.—Little Center College, from the hills of Kentucky, is spectacular in everything it does. That is one large reason why Center is no longer little. With a spectacular football team that appeared in every way to the imagination. Center blazed her name in big letters all over the country and her team grew right out of Danville.

Center is going out after a new stadium and the college leaders are going about getting it in the same spectacular way. A campaign slogan on "Say it with cement" was adopted, and friends were asked to "kick in" with a barrel or two. More than $20,000 was raised around Danville, but that will not be enough.

"Clete Charles" Moran, the football coach, who mends the shoes of his boys and sews their uniforms, went about the new project with the same vim and enthusiasm. Uncle Charles and his footballers did all the grading of the field and they are going to do as much in the actual construction of the stadium as they can.

Approximately 18,000 barrels of cement will be needed to build the stadium, and it comes at $3.15 a barrel. One section costs $300. The "Prinny" Colonels' want some of their friends in the east to: "Say it with cement."

Detroit Woman Is Leader in Singles

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 18.—Mrs. G. Baker of Detroit went into the lead in the singles event of the national women's bowling tournament by crashing down 528 pins late last night. She had scores of 178, 159 and 201.

Rolling up creditable marks, bowlers from Chicago, Indianapolis, Cleveland and Toledo went into the second session, anxious from Denver, Columbus, O., Delkosh, Appleton and Milwaukee. Wisconsin failed to perform impressively but rolled good games.

Chapman of Chicago assumed the lead in the doubles by knocking down 984 pins.

Kansas City was selected over Detroit and Toledo as the site for the 1924 tournament at a meeting of the executive committee of the association. Mrs. J. Kneppath of Milwaukee was elected vice-president and Mrs. M. Metz of Cleveland was re-elected treasurer.

The leaders follow: Singles—Mrs. G. Baker, Detroit, 528; Mrs. O. C. Berghaus, St. Louis, 520. Doubles—Mrs. M. Baker and Mrs. E. Chapter, Chicago, 984; Mrs. W. R. Smith and Mrs. O. C. Berghaus, St. Louis, 982.

BOWLING SCORES

The P. T. & T. Co. team enjoyed a rest this week, declaring a vacation Monday night along with the Oakland Eels to attend a banquet, with the result that the three leaders of the Oakland Handicap League are not in a bunch. The Del Montes showed only a flash of form to win one game from the Eels while the Auditoriums took three from the W. T. Rawleigh Co. and gained two points in the race.

The Bowling Center managed to take one from the Broadway Barbers who moved into a tie with the Eels for fourth place.

Topper of the Barbers showed to be the class with 553, while "Speed" Erickson of the Del Montes, the only member of the team hitting in his stride, smashed 570. O'Toole, with 229, led for high single game.

Bohemian Club Planning Golf At Del Monte

DEL MONTE, April 18.—The Bohemian Club is making elaborate preparations for its annual golf frolic at Del Monte week after next, April 27 to 29.

The San Francisco Real Estate Board is going to have a big sports celebration and high links at Del Monte May 4 to 6. Some of the features planned are a three day golf tournament, a special polo match on improved mounts, a basketball game and a number of other contests. It is expected there will be seventy-five or eighty invited guests from the Los Angeles Real Estate Board and one hundred and seventy-five or more from San Francisco and the bay cities.

The California Indians have their sport pow-wow carded for May 7 to 18 and some of the events will be two trapshooting tournaments, a golf tournament and other competitions.

Mrs. Managie pulled the surprise of the night with a perfect score in the second contest against the Royal Shoes.

CHICAGO, April 18.—(By International News Service.)—Charles Harvey, secretary of the New York boxing commission and one of the best known men in the fight game, was probably fatally injured early today in an automobile accident. His skull was fractured and he was rushed to a hospital in a dying condition.

Howard Carr, also a well known fight manager and promoter, and formerly a boxer, was with Harvey.

Carr, who was driving the automobile in which Harvey was riding, was slightly injured when his car collided with one driven by Martin Christensen, of Chicago. Physicians said Harvey sustained internal injuries in addition to a fracture of the skull.

Carr was placed under arrest on a charge of driving a motor vehicle on a boulevard intersection.

TEXAS LEAGUE WILL Open Season Today.

DALLAS, Texas, April 18.—Spring training completed, baseball clubs of the Texas League were biting the bit anxious to be off to mow in the race for the 1923 championship.

Fort Worth, winners of last year's pennant, will fight for a new league record—a four-time consecutive championship.

BOXING CHATTER

NEW YORK, April 18.—Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland, whose title of world's featherweight boxing champion is not recognized in New York state, applied yesterday for a license to box here, which probably will be granted, Chairman William Muldoon of the boxing commission said.

Kilbane has been matched to meet Eugene Criqui of France, featherweight champion of Europe, in a title match at the Polo Grounds June 3, but Muldoon recently indicated that Kilbane first must meet Johnny Dundee. Since that intimation Muldoon's mandatory powers have been abridged.

Jack Malone, St. Paul middleweight boxer, who was outpointed here Monday night by Billy Wells, welterweight champion of England, announced today that he would hereafter confine his attention to the middleweight boxers, with two exceptions. He wants a return match with Wells before his home town folks and also wants to meet Mickey Walker, the welterweight champion.

NEW YORK, April 18.—Tex Rickard, boxing promoter, yesterday called what he said was his final offer to Georges Carpentier, former light-heavyweight champion of the world, to meet Mike McGuire, who recently won the crown from Battling Siki in Dublin, in a title match in this country in June.

If the French idol does not accept Rickard said he will endeavor to promote a championship match between McTigue and Gene Tunney of New York, the American titleholder.

Baseball Season to Open at Seattle.

SEATTLE, April 18.—Mayor Edwin J. Brown is to pitch the first ball this afternoon when Seattle and Los Angeles open the Pacific Coast League baseball season here. Lieutenant Governor William J. Carr is to stand at the plate with a bat in position, while Chief of Police W. B. Severns receives the throw and Sheriff Matt Sawich cuts it. The mayor has proclaimed a half-holiday.

The Indians arrived here yesterday from the south, and did a brisk workout in preparation for their first appearance before the fans. The Angels were expected this morning. The batteries indicated this morning were Gardner and Vyan or Tobin for the home team, Lyons and Daly for the visitors.

Family Club To Hold Next Sports Event

DEL MONTE, April 17.—The next sports event at Del Monte which promises to be one of the most interesting of the season will be the week-end party of the Family Club at San Francisco on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The outstanding attractions will be a golf tournament calling for eighteen holes of play on Saturday and eighteen holes on Sunday and a trapshooting tournament on Saturday afternoon at the new trapshooting grounds at the polo field.

Your Glands Wear Out!

If You Could Prevent the Wear and Tear on Your Glands Caused by Sickness, Age, Disease, etc., You Would Look and Feel as Young at 70 as at 25. Science, However, Has Solved the Secrets of the Glands and Now for the First Time Shows You the True Way to Keep or Regain Your Vigor by Feeding and Replenishing the Most Important Glands!

50,000 Demonstration Treatments Sent Absolutely FREE
You Will Receive One if You Send the Coupon

You Will Throw Away Your 'Tonics' and Your Alcoholic 'Medicines' Once You Try This Greatest of All Health Builders.

The Lewis Gland Treatment is absolutely original in every particular and nothing like it has ever been known in medical science.

This Combination Method is far ahead of any "Medicine"—"Tonic"—or stimulant ever used in the past. In one week's time it will accomplish more in the cases for which it is intended than a year's doctoring with any other form of treatment or drugs known.

First you must realize that this most modern method of administering Actual Gland Substance is so entirely new that it can not yet be purchased in drug stores. Every treatment is sent direct to the person for whom it is intended.

And in order to introduce the Lewis Method quickly, we are prepared to send 50,000 Demonstration Treatments entirely FREE without one penny of expense now or ever to those who will send for them.

We know that everyone who gives this Gland Rejuvenator a trial will be a living, walking testimony for every claim we are making and that it is destined to replace all the old fashioned drugs usually prescribed for weakness and lack of vigor.

The "Lewis" Treatment Is Practically Never Failing

So surely will this Method of Treating Glandular Insufficiency bring back your strength and renew your interest in life, that we can claim very truthfully that we are offering you your choice between Happiness and Health or Despondency and Debilitation.

If you have tried many other forms of medical treatment without relief and have despaired of finding anything helpful, then you are the very one above all others to whom we will most gladly send one of our Demonstration Treatments. All you are asked to do is to Test this new Method in your home and at our expense. Surely you will not permit any doubt or prejudice to stand in your way when such a liberal offer as this is made you.

Lewis Laboratories,

Gentlemen:
Receiving I owe you a testimonial. I will tell you now to the world that I consider your new gland systematic treatment the greatest remedy of modern times. I have doctors for years without any relief and when you read of my story you will understand why I am so grateful to you. I used to be an actor in the Minstrel Show business and did lots of rough and tumble work. Years ago from overexertion I lost my manly vigor, my legs and feet gave way and a kind of paralysis set in on my left side. For years I had to drag my left leg and always wore the toes of my shoes sore. Was much across the small of my back, couldn't get up or down stairs. In fact I was a wreck in every way. I tried everything without any help. I tried your gland treatment as a last resort. After three weeks' treatment I found I could sit down and raise my feet in the air. Before I couldn't raise my feet six inches from the floor. After five weeks the paralysis disappeared. I could walk or run as good as any man, my vigor has returned and I feel like twenty-five years younger. And everybody says I look it too. I honestly believe your gland treatment should be brought to the notice of everybody who has lost his health and pep and suffers as I did. I know it will help them for everything I have tried failed to help me, and everybody when I have recommended to try your gland treatment says the same. I am a Moose here, member L. O. O. M. number 17, Moose Legion No. 27 and my lodge brothers will sign their names to any statement I make.
Yours truly,
John Robert Andress,

A Special Combination Treatment for Women

You will notice in the coupon that we ask whether the treatment is intended for male or female.

This is necessary because the two treatments are absolutely different as to formulas. The female treatment contains Lutein and is particularly recommended for the ailments to which women are most commonly subject. Any Physician will testify as to the wonderful value of Lutein for women's troubles and will also understand that this substance would be of no benefit if administered in a treatment for men. We mention this one point of difference to emphasize the fact that the Lewis Treatment for Women is especially prepared for that sex.

Here Is the Experience of One Michigan Woman

Lewis Laboratories,
Chicago, Ill.

Gentlemen:
Enclosed you will find money order for which please rush my next treatment, as I am nearly out of my last supply. Your treatment for the rebuilding of the glands is a most wonderful discovery, and words cannot express my gratitude to you for what the treatment has done for me.
Nine years ago I went to the hospital here to have a fibroid tumor removed, and on the operating table several other organs were also removed. Since then my life has been miserable. I suffered so much that I would have committed suicide, were it not for my two sons. I tried everything without any relief, and the agony was awful. I was advised to try your new gland treatment and I have thanked my creator ever since. The first week I noticed a remarkable change, my head seemed clearer, my whole system felt lighter and I improved so rapidly. I had a new ambition instilled in me to live.
I am recovering so rapidly that I don't want to interrupt the treatment, so please rush this to me. I have recommended your gland treatment to so many people. I again want to thank you for what your treatment has done.
Yours for health,
Mrs. Paany Griggs,

Too Much Heavy Work Is the Cause of Many Breakdowns

Lewis Laboratories, Chicago, Ill.

Dear Sirs:
Have just finished a month's treatment and must congratulate you on your wonderful discovery. It does not seem possible that you can restore young vigor and strength so quickly through so simple a treatment. Being an engineer of this building have considerable responsibility, and through overwork I was completely run down. I fell from a ladder some months ago, and the shock so unnerved me that I lost all my vigor and pep. A member recommended your treatment and it has certainly done wonders for me. My wife said a week ago that the change in me amazed her. The treatment put a youthful vigor in my blood, and I feel so much younger, it is unbelievable. My wife is now starting on your special treatment for women. Am talking of your treatment to all my friends and will be glad to write to anyone about this.
Gratefully yours,
Mr. James Walndel,
